Candidates Set To Open Campaigns

6 Republicans And 5 Democrats Make Commissioner Bids

Six Republicans and five Democrats are about to launch campaigns for their parties' nominations for two county commissioners' seats at the primary elections May 5 — just a month from tomorrow.

Although nominations for 11 offices are at stake, there's only one other race on both tickets. Democrats will settle a two-way race for nomination as state representative.

Picking opposing slates for the general election in November, the two parties also will choose nominees for Common Pleas judge, prosecuting attorney, clerk of courts, treasurer, recorder, sheriff, engineer and coroner.

The big field for the GOP commissioner nominations is topped by the two incumbents, Walter A. Hunston of East Palestine and Galen Greenstein of Salem R. D. 3, both running for a fourth term.

Others in the Republican commissioner's race are:

Councilman Robert Kelm of Lisbon, a building contractor; Wilbur Stratton, operator of Stratton's Restaurant in Columbiana and a former Salem Township clerk and Leetonia School Board member; Samuel B. Webber of Broadway Circle, a former city councilman and a turn foreman at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., and Atty. Donald Elliott of Rogers, former County School Board member who is active in many civic groups.

The Democratic field includes: Frank C. Wilson, Wellsville market operator, and R. Max Gard, Lisbon area historian and antique dealer, both former commissioners; Robert Owen of Ohio Ave., former safety-service director and councilman; Paul Yarwood of Lisbon R. D. 4, County Home employee, and Lewis Sowards of Lisbon R. D. 3, a farmer and a Crucible employee.

The hold-over commissioner is James Boyd of near East Liverpool, also a Republican.

The only other race on either ticket — for the Democratic nomination for state representative — pits two Salem men against each other.

They are Council President

Hunt Pressed For Driver In Hit-Skip Case

District law enforcement agencies today are continuing a search for a hit-skip motorist who vanished after a collision Friday at 10:57 a. m. at the junction of the Freeway and Dresden Ave. that damaged a Glenmoor woman's auto.

Police said the hit-skip car with Illinois plates struck a 1963 station wagon operated by Mrs. Betty Jane White, damaging the right front, side and both right hubcaps. Then the car continued north on Route 30 without stopping, police said.

Law enforcement agencies throughout the district joined in a search immediately as police broadcast a radio alert, but the offending auto was not located.

Mrs. White told police she was headed south on Dresden Ave. and proceeded through the traffic signal in her favor at the junction with the Freeway. The offending auto pulled off the Freeway, hit her auto and failed to halt, she said.

Another mishap Friday at 2:36 p. m. on E. 6th St. at Washington St. involved a 1959 model convertible driven by Anna C. Martin of 13 11th St., Midland, and a 1956 tractor-trailer truck driven by Harry M. Peck, 46, of Norwich, Ohio, and owned by the Putnam Transfer & Storage Co. of Zanesville.

The mishap damaged the left front fender and bumper of the auto. The truck was undamaged. The two vehicles were in parallel lanes when both started right turns, police said. The woman said she halted when the truck pulled in front of her, but it struck her car's left front.

Two crashes last night occurred at St. Clair and Lincoln

To Set Canal Talks

U.S., Panama Move Quickly To Renew Relations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Panama are moving quickly to restore normal diplomatic relations and are expected to open talks soon on their differences over the Panama Canal.

A new agreement pledging them to work out a "just and fair" settlement was concluded at a meeting of the Organization of American States Friday. It finally brought to an end the crisis in U.S.-Panama relations which began three months ago with an argument over flying flags in the Panama Canal Zone and erupted into mob violence that cost more than a score of lives. Relations between the countries were severed Jan. 17.

President Johnson said the day of agreement was "a great day for the American people, for Panama, for all the Western Hemisphere and for all freedom-loving people everywhere." "Panama can be confident, as we are confident," Johnson told Latin American ambassadors and U.S. officials at the White House in late afternoon, "that we each desire an agreement that protects the interests and recognizes the needs of both our nations."

After the agreement had been signed with considerable fanfare, Johnson spoke by telephone with President Roberto Chari of Panama.

A few hours later Panama named Miguel Moreno Jr., its ambassador to the Organization of American States, as its new envoy to Washington.

Johnson is expected to announce a new ambassador to Panama in a day or so. Indications are the appointment will go to Jack Hood Vaughn, 43, Latin-American director of the Peace Corps who has had long experience in international affairs and some service in Panama.

The President already has designated Robert A. Anderson, a Texan who was secretary of the Treasury in the Eisenhower administration, to serve as a special emissary seeking an end to the differences between the two countries.

The long deadlock, which several times had seemed close to a breakthrough, finally was broken, it appeared, by the conciliatory public statement Johnson made March 21 and the responsive declaration three days later by Chari.

This gave an opening for mediation by Juan Bautista de La- valle, chairman of the OAS Council. Associates said he had worked in secrecy until he finally had an agreement nailed down and notified the OAS of his success only Friday, two hours before the accord was signed. It was signed for the United States by Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and for Panama by Moreno.

The agreement was markedly different from the one announced by the OAS March 15, which never became effective because of a dispute between the United States and Panama over interpretation.

The new agreement directs Anderson and his Panamanian counterpart to begin immediately "the necessary procedures with the objective of reaching a just and fair agreement which would be subject to the constitutional processes of each country."

Breach Too Wide To Close

Soviet Premier Blasts Red China

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev has bitterly denounced the Red Chinese in the strongest indication yet that the ideological breach between Moscow and Peking is too wide to close.

Khrushchev predicted that the world's Communist parties would close ranks against the Chinese and emerge from the struggle "even stronger and more hardened than before."

His new attack on the Red Chinese Friday coincided with Pravda's publication in Moscow of a violent condemnation of Peking and a call for a world Communist showdown conference to read the other Red giant out of the movement.

The Soviet leader, speaking at a rally on the eve of the 19th anniversary of Hungary's liberation by Soviet troops, assailed the Chinese as "splitters."

He denounced "the grave danger inherent in their subversive activity within the Socialist camp and the international Communist movement."

"There can be no doubt," Khrushchev declared, "that the Marxist-Leninist parties will rally ever closer together under the great banner of Marx-Engels-Lenin in the struggle against the (Chinese) splitters of Marxist-Leninist parties."

"They will emerge from this struggle even stronger and more hardened than before and will lead the working class, the working people, to new historic victories of socialism and communism!"

Obviously referring to the Red Chinese, he asserted that "no body will be able to divert them (pro-Moscow Communists) from the only correct Leninist road."

Khrushchev called for creation of "some organization for the correlation of foreign policy" among members of the Warsaw Pact and the Communist Council for Mutual Economic Assistance.

This would be a legalistic method of reading Peking out of the movement because Red China is not a member of either organization and would be excluded from a role in the decisions of the other Communist nations.

Funeral Is Pending

J. DeMar Miller, 66, Dies; Was Reporter, Ex-Mayor

J. DeMar Miller, former Chester mayor and correspondent for The Review for about 30 years, died this morning at 10:30 at City Hospital after an illness of two months. He was 66.

Mr. Miller, 309 Indiana Ave., has been a patient at the hospital since March 12. Today was his birthday.

A former pottery worker, he attended West Virginia University and as a pianist, led and played in orchestras in the district for a number of years. He also attended Akron University. He was a charter member and past president of the Chester Kiwanis Club. He served as mayor in 1944-48.

Mr. Miller was born April 4, 1898, in the East End section of East Liverpool, a son of the

Tornado Kills 7; Hundreds Are Homeless

Scores Injured In Wichita Falls, Tex. With Damage High

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — This northwest Texas city, its suburban fringe grotesquely mangled, struggled to recover today from a tornado which killed seven persons, injured scores and left hundreds homeless.

Damage was estimated unofficially at $2 million.

The white and gray twister, viewed in horror by many standing in downtown streets and watching local television, drilled through the city's northwestern suburbs and nearby Sheppard Air Force Base.

An estimated total of 240 homes were demolished in a half-mile swath carved by the funnel, its leaning, S-shaped form weaving like a snake against patches of blue sky.

Cars were hurled through the air. Bed springs, mattresses and household furnishings soared among debris into the streets.

At Sheppard the walls of a hangar collapsed around 300 airmen momentarily trapped. The funnel lifted as it approached Sheppard School where children huddled in halls while debris rained about the building.

"I just can't believe we managed to come through it," said R. B. Bentley, 30, grocery store owner who saved his wife and daughter, 2, by pushing them into a walk-in ice box.

$15,000 Fire Destroys Chester District Barn

Loss was estimated at $15,000 in an early-morning fire which destroyed a large barn on the old Carl Stewart farm near Chester.

Fire Chief Clark Lively said the 40-x-60-foot structure about half a mile off Route 30 three miles out of Chester was in flames when the Lawrenceville volunteer firemen arrived about 3 a. m. The farm is near the National Church Supply Co.'s building.

Some hay and straw and a bailer were lost but there were no animals or other machinery in the building. No one resides at the farm and no other structures were damaged.

The alarm was turned in at 3 by a resident of Little Blue Rd., who noticed the glow on the horizon. Stewart, who resides nearby, said the loss is partially covered by insurance. Ten men and two trucks responded to the call.

Polio Clinic Staffs Due To Report Early

Charles R. Schmitt, general chairman, said volunteers are to report at the Midland area clinics Sunday at 10 a. m. for the second of three oral polio vaccine distributions planned in Beaver County.

Clinic hours will be 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. at the Lincoln High School in Midland, Western Beaver County High School at Industry and South Side Elementary School at Hookstown among the 33 in the county.

Sabin oral polio vaccine Type III will be distributed. The clinics of "Operation K. O. Polio" are sponsored by the Beaver County Medical Society in co-operation with the United Funds of Beaver with local organizations, doctors and nurses participating.

Type I was distributed at clinics March 1. About 3,100 lumps of sugar containing the vaccine were distributed at Western Beaver High, 3,300 at Midland High, and 1,894 at the South Side elementary building. Some 600 were given vaccine in a follow-up March 8 at Midland High, and 700 at South Side.

Schmitt said there are no intentions at this time of having a follow-up on tomorrow's program unless attendance is extremely disappointing. Anyone who misses getting the vaccine may obtain it from their physicians. Anyone who missed the first clinic may get Type III tomorrow and Type I later from their physician.

Schmitt reminded that parental consent forms for minor children will not be required if the child has the Type I immunization card issued last month. If they have either lost the card or have not received Type I vaccine, they must have the consent form which is available at the clinic site. Persons receiving vaccine last month are reminded to bring their vaccine record cards.

Though the vaccine is free, donations of 25 cents will be accepted to defray the cost of the program. Type II, which remains in the digestive tract the longest, will be distributed May 10.

Steve Trbovich is chairman for the Midland clinic and Charles Jacoby and Jack H. Gill, are chairmen and co-chairmen, respectively, for the Western Beaver clinic.

Mrs. Lois Frasier, school nurse, is in charge of the clinic at Hookstown.

Bar Association To Meet On Monday, Panel On Tuesday

LISBON — Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said today that 16 cases, involving 14 defendants, will be presented to the Columbiana County Grand Jury when it is seated Tuesday, after the opening of the April term of Common Pleas Court Monday.

The term will officially open at noon Monday when the Columbiana County Bar Association meets for dinner at the McKinley room of the VFW Post home.

Bar members will then return to the Courthouse for their annual business meeting with Atty. Ben Berman of East Liverpool, president, presiding for his first meeting. He was elected in January.

The 15-member panel will be picked Tuesday morning and will be sworn in by Judge Joel H. Sharp, who will handle criminal cases this term.

The jury will begin hearing witnesses immediately and will

Student Held As Burglar

Store Owner Fires Gun To Stop Youth

An 18-year-old high school senior was being held in City Jail today after being apprehended early this morning in an East End grocery by the owner, who fired two shots to scare the youth.

James Lee Hughes, 1250 Chaffin St., is scheduled to be arraigned Monday in Municipal Court on a breaking and entering charge, police said. A center on the 1963 football team, he had won three letters.

Earl H. Ohnezeit, who resides at his grocery at 1258 Pennsylvania Ave., told police he found Hughes in the store when he went to investigate the sound of glass breaking.

Ohnezeit said he fired two shots to scare him and called neighbors who summoned police.

Officers said the 21-by-27-inch upper window on the north side of the building was broken out and Hughes reached through and turned off the burglar alarm before crawling through the window.

Police said Hughes also has admitted four other burglaries—two at East Junior High and two at the O. S. Hill & Co., 1275 Pennsylvania Ave.

Abrams, Hutton Ask Nomination

With Chester's primary election only three days away, little campaign action is noted among candidates for nominations on the two party ballots.

Major interest in the voting Tuesday will focus upon the Republican race between Mayor Harry Abrams, seeking a second consecutive term, and Wayne Hutton, incumbent, Fourth Ward Councilman.

Election To Defer Meeting Of Council

Because of the balloting Tuesday, Chester Council's regularly scheduled meeting that night will be held Wednesday instead, Mayor Harry Abrams announced.

The Chester water works office will be closed Tuesday for Election Day.

There will be five GOP contests and two Democrat races. Abrams, who also served as mayor in 1940-44, formerly operated a news depot and served as a deputy sheriff.

Hutton, a Crucible Steel Co. employee, heads the Council water committee.

Donald Flowers of Virginia Ave., another Crucible worker, is the unopposed Democratic candidate for mayor, to be paired with the GOP winner in the city's general election June 2.

In other Republican contests, City Clerk-Treasurer Roy Cashdollar is seeking a fifth term. He is opposed by Virgil Hasson of Virginia Ave., former city clerk and onetime pottery employee.

The Republicans have no First Ward Council candidate. Seeking the GOP Second Ward Council nomination are

'An Ominous Report,' Doctor Says

Gen. MacArthur In Coma Reported As 'Deepening'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur is in a coma which is "gradually deepening," and other vital functions are becoming increasingly difficult to sustain, Army doctors announced today.

The report came from Lt. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, who said he was giving "an ominous report," but added that "miracles can always happen."

Heaton is surgeon general of the Army and the chief surgeon in MacArthur's case. His comment about miracles came when he was asked if there was any possibility of recovery for MacArthur. It seemed obvious from his manner and speech, however, that he expected no such miracle in the present case.

Heaton said the fact that he himself had come to make the report to newsmen indicated that it is an "ominous" situation at present. Others on the hospital staff have usually delivered the reports.

Heaton was accompanied by Brig. Gen. Henry S. Murphey, commander of the Walter Reed Army Hospital, and by Col. Thomas Whalen, chief surgeon. Heaton made this opening statement:

"Gen. MacArthur continues in a peaceful coma which is gradually deepening."

"This is primarily due to a liver failure. The other major vital signs and functions are becoming increasingly difficult to sustain."

It was when a reporter asked Heaton what the outlook for shop foreman at the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co.

Incumbent GOP Third Ward Councilman Donald Hissam, seeking a third term, is opposed by Herman Gower of Virginia Ave., bakery operator and former councilman. Hissam, of 2nd St., is employed at New Castle Refractories.

Walter McSwegin of 6th St. and Mrs. Mary Hinde of Florida Ave. are Republican contestants for the nomination for the Fourth Ward seat now held by Hutton.

McSwegin is a former councilman and an employee of the Weirton Steel Co. Mrs. Hinde is a Harker China Co. employee and co-operator of a youth center.

Percy Willison of Pyramus St. is unopposed for the GOP Fifth Ward seat. He is a barber and former Fifth Ward councilman. Incumbent Councilman Donald Chaney is a candidate for Hancock County sheriff and did not file for re-election to Council.

The two Democratic contests are in the First and Fourth Wards.

First Ward Councilman Charles Kology, Crucible Steel employee, is seeking a fifth term. He is opposed by Robert Reed of Indiana Ave., employee of the American Vitriol Products Co.

On the Democratic ballot in the Fourth Ward are George Davidson of Florida Ave., a pottery worker, and Elmer Robinson of Knowles Alley, a Hall China Co. employee.

Frank Decapio of Phyllis Ave., an employee of Crucible, is unopposed for the Democratic Third Ward Council nomination.

Brooks Ash of Indiana Ave., employee of Taylor, Smith & Taylor, is unopposed for the Democratic

MacArthur was, that Heaton replied gravely "this is an ominous report," and said that if death came it would certainly "not... be a matter of weeks."

The 84-year-old general of the Army had started slipping into a coma Friday night.

Through the night, a medical team was in constant attendance in the double recovery room of which the general is the sole occupant. Earlier in the evening his wife, Jean, was a frequent visitor.

Doctors reported as late as 9 p. m. (EST) that there was no obvious change in the vital signs—that the heart beat and blood pressure were still holding the line.

Doctors also reported that the general's body chemistry had improved, indicating that the emergency technique to draw poisonous waste products from the blood was working.

But the report that the general—after three major operations and 13 days in critical condition—has shown signs of falling into a coma came as a surprise. The 6 p. m. announcement had followed a morning report indicating that the general's decline had halted.

A coma in aged patients is a frequent forerunner of death. There was no such indication from doctors at the Army's Walter Reed General Hospital. They said tersely:

"Gen. Douglas MacArthur shows signs of entering a peaceful coma."

There was also no indication

Police Case Hearing Set

A hearing will be held April 24 at 1 p.m. before Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp at Lisbon in a demurrer to the action filed by Charles Amato of Wellsville to force the city to appoint him as a permanent patrolman.

Amato filed the declaratory judgment suit on March 6 against the city of Wellsville with William Daugherty, Mayor; Fred Baldasare, Safety Service Director, and Edward Welch, Donald Miller and Richard Lloyd, members of the Civil Service Commission, as defendants.

The demurrer was filed in their behalf by Atty. William Bush, city solicitor, claiming that "it appears upon the face of the petition that the facts therein contained do not constitute a cause of action in favor of plaintiff against the defendants."

"The plaintiff claims he was appointed to the police force in January 1958 by the then Mayor William Shoub, but he does not make any allegations or plead any facts showing that at the time such alleged appointment that there was any vacancy in said department to be filled, or that the safety - service director appointed the plaintiff to fill such vacancy, as required by law," according to the demurrer.

Judge's opponent in November for the treasurer's post will be R. Dale Miller of Lisbon R. D. 5, the unopposed GOP candidate. Miller is a hatchery operator and former accountant. Republicans have no candidate for coroner, so Dr. Kolozsi is assured of a new term. It is the only blank spot on either ticket.

Unopposed for the Democratic nomination for Common Pleas judge is County Judge Herbert Arfman of Leontia. He presides in the court at East Palestine.

The Democrats' unopposed candidate for sheriff is Edward W. Mallory, retired head of the State Highway Patrol post at Lisbon, now safety director at Salem.

John Ursu of Salem, a self-employed engineer - surveyor, is the unopposed Democratic candidate for engineer. He sought the same post unsuccessfully four years ago.

In the November election, Brian's opponent for the recorder's job will be John P. Wargo of Summitville. Unopposed for the Democratic nomination, Wargo is a Franklin Township trustee and an employee of the county auditor's office.

Police Hunt Abductor Of Mother, Child

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 29-year-old woman and her 5-month-old daughter were kidnapped late Friday by a young man who then tried to assault the mother at knifepoint, police reported.

The abductor fled the woman's car, police said, when he crashed into the rear of a car driven by John L. Dowling, an assistant Cuyahoga County prosecutor.

The woman, identified by police as Mrs. Carol Kahle, said she fought off the kidnaper's advances in her car even though her hands were bound. She was a captive about an hour. The baby was treated at St. John's Hospital for possible head injuries and released.

Police began a search Friday night for a 26-year-old man the woman identified from pictures as the abductor. He has a record for recent assaults, police said.

Mrs. Kahle told police the intruder forced his way into her auto in a grocery parking lot and, at knifepoint, ordered her to "start driving."

After five minutes, the assailant took over the driving after tying Mrs. Kahle's hands with his belt and covering her mouth with adhesive tape.

The man drove to Edgewater Park, where the assault attempt took place. After Mrs. Kahle fought him off, the assailant drove to Edgewater Drive where he crashed into Dowling's car. He then fled on foot.

Advertisement SPRING AND YOUR SEPTIC TANK

Surprising though it may seem, Spring, with its sunshine and showers, is just about the most critical time of year for owners of septic tanks.

To correctly understand the aforementioned statement it is first necessary to analyze the workings of septic tanks, and the effect of seasonal changes.

Your septic tank is a chamber wherein exists a complex of micro - organisms, each type equipped to handle and dispose of different types of waste material. Working as a team, these infinitesimal forms of life break down and liquefy the solids, leaving only a liquid which is free to run out for final disposal in your drainfield or drywell. Regularly activated, these living "garbage disposals" will normally keep up with the flow of waste, and your system will function properly. However, surveys show that during the spring season, more systems "back-up" and overflow than any other time of year, creating expensive and highly unsanitary conditions.

WHY???

The answer to that question is simply "temperature". Bacterial life dislikes temperature changes, and since your septic tank has no heating system to keep things cozy that they can go about their work in comfort, they die off in millions and billions when winter arrives, leaving only a "skeleton crew" of weakened bacteria to handle the heavy loads. Consequently, as winter months pass slowly by, a build-up of undigested grease and solids occurs, clogging the tank and passing through to the disposal fields. Grease congeals and deposits in the pores of the soil, almost to the point of being beyond repair. Melting ice, snow, and spring showers add to the problem by increasing the amount of water entering the system.

HOW SEA-CAL ENZYMES HELP

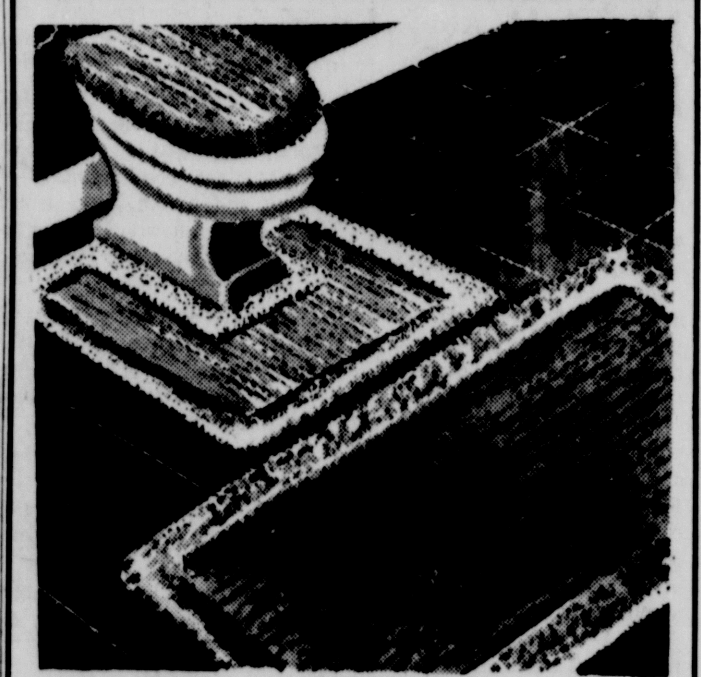

The powerful digestive powers of the enzymes contained in SEA-CAL rapidly liquefy the hard grease packs in the septic tanks and drainfields, changing such grease and other solids into available food for the bacteria. SEA-CAL also contains 80,000,000 anaerobic bacteria per gram (28 grams in each ounce), and with each bacteria reproducing itself many times a day, the micro-organism population as rapidly build up to adequate numbers, with the ultimate return of full operating efficiency.

IMPORTANT!!!!

FOR THE BEST PROTECTION DURING SPRING, DOUBLE YOUR SEA-CAL TREATMENTS, PARTICULARLY WHERE TANKS ARE UNDER-SIZED OR ARE SUBJECT TO OVERLOADS AND/OR AMOUNTS OF DETERGENTS AND BLEACHES.

Chester Area Due Cutoff Of Power

Interruption of power in east Chester is planned by the Monongahela Power Co. Sunday from 8:30 a.m. to noon to permit a changeover from 7,200-volt lines to 12,000-volt circuits feeding the area.

This includes Pan Ave., starting at Carolina Ave. and extending to the T. K. Roofing Co., and from Route 30 to Orion Ave. This area embraces Fabian, Phaeton Ave. and Orion Ave.

About 50 residential customers will be involved, along with the roofing firm, the Harker Pottery Co., city water works and the Fox Nursing Home.

The utility said special arrangements are being made to shorten the expected interruption for the nursing home.

This is part of the general improvement of service for the Chester area by enlarging capacity, Walter Jordan, Chester manager, said. The program began over a year ago with construction of a new substation and conversion of power lines.

Poor, Poorer, Poorest

One of the most moving experiences in Washington this spring is the popular response to the Johnson administration's "war on poverty."

Letters are reaching the capital by the tens of thousands from Americans who want help and Americans who want to give help. Government clerks handling this flood of mail are undergoing a shattering experience. Americans really care.

Before this program has run its course, as all such programs eventually must run their course, all of us may have undergone a shattering experience.

Some of the shattering aspects already are obtruding themselves on public awareness.

ONE IS THE hopelessness of the kind of poverty that perpetuates itself in families, in neighborhoods and entire areas because almost no one rises above a bare subsistence level of existence.

There is a special kind of hopelessness inside the general hopelessness about this hereditary poverty — the realization that inferior mentality bars many of the victims of hereditary poverty from ever improving their lot. They are locked fast in despair.

These are the poor we always will have with us. These are the poorest. Above them and more numerous are people whose lot is improvable within limits — people who could be better off than they are with a push in the right direction. They range from pensioners unable to make ends meet to young persons capable of learning to do something useful, provided something useful can be found for them to do.

Above these poorer are the merely poor, whose lot is infinitely improvable — people without adequate means because of misfortune and temporary circumstances. Some of the poorest people imaginable right now are Alaskans whose possessions were destroyed in the most devastating earthquake ever to occur in North America.

People like these are capable of infinite improvement. Educable children in this category need only the opportunity to learn. These are the poor who boast that they don't know it because they were wealthy in everything but money.

THESE DISTINCTIONS are important. Unless they are made, optimists will try to do the impossible and skeptics will be unwilling to try anything at all.

There are the poor, the poorer and the poorest. All can be helped a little by a nation whose intentions are pointed in the right direction.

Some can be helped a lot.

Fair Justice

One of the unique and refreshing principles in Judge Samuel M. Chertoff's courtroom is that one need not spend a lot of money on learned counsel in order to present his case adequately.

That was demonstrated again Friday when a 19-year-old motorist accused of reckless driving conducted his own defense in such a convincing manner that the charge was reduced to a speeding violation.

The incumbent on the municipal bench always has made it a practice to go to great lengths to assure a fair hearing for all parties, whether they be the defendant or the complaining witness in a misdemeanor case or the two litigants in a civil action.

On occasion when a layman acts on his own counsel, the judge carefully instructs him on his rights. He allows the layman certain latitude in his actions before the bar that would not be permitted of an attorney trained in all the niceties.

Defendants without counsel are instructed on their right to seek a continuance to obtain a lawyer's advice before entering a plea. And if that advice is waived—particularly in a felony case—all the implications of the three possible pleas are explained to the defendant.

A defendant who indicates he wants to enter a guilty plea simply to cut the proceedings short and be on the way sometimes is drawn up short by a refusal. In such instances, the court will enter a "not guilty" plea and proceed with a hearing.

Upon accepting a guilty plea or returning a finding of guilty, the court always questions the defendant closely on his circumstances before fixing a penalty.

It proves, at least in East Liverpool's court, that mercy tempers justice and that a full hearing always is a prelude to an intelligent decision in any case.

By Martin Miller

Letter From Max

Dear Truman Twill:

You will recall that we have a mutual friend who got straight "A" grades and a master's degree in political science and now is setting the world on fire picking winning horses at the races.

My question to you is this: Which do you think are harder to pick, winning horses or winning politicians? I can see where picking winning politicians might help train one to pick winning horses, but I can't see how handicapping horses would help one to judge politicians' chances. And that may be the reason our friend deserted politics for horse races. Horses are duck soup, so to speak.

Then there is that famous poet who wrote his autobiography and named the book "I Am Bic Pen Tameter."

If some of the so-called political liberals had to face the lightning changes and revolutions in business and industry that the so-called conservatives handle daily they would be as agast as the conservatives are at the liberals' governmental innovations.

With all the distress in Latin America, including Castro, it seems that that part of the world could use another Bolivar or Juarez or Martin Luther King.

It comes as a shock to have Red China call Khrushchev a dastardly appeaser of the capitalist West. Somehow we just never happen to think of Khrushchev in that light. And what is the latest dope on our missiles? Are they all A-OK or all snafu?

Now that April has come in like a lion, we can at least hope it goes out like a lamb.

One of the most disconsolate sights in the world is a robin wading through snow looking for a worm.

All of your friends were glad for you during our latest snowstorms so you could make hay amortizing your snowblower.

If you happen to become preoccupied with the problem of human relations just remember that warm feeling you experienced when you received service with a smile and more service than the occasion demanded. It happens more often than you think and sows the seed for a generous response if it does not fall on barren ground. Carry On

I was explaining to a group of high school students the other day why I think Johnny, who can't read, can't write, either.

It's for the same reason. Johnny—and Susy—haven't had enough practice. Johnny can make all the moves on a basketball floor by second nature. He has practiced pivots, dribbling, shooting and jumping until he can do them in his sleep.

Susy can do the writhings of the latest dance craze without a second thought. Or perhaps her specialty is baton twirling, which she practices by the hour.

But students do not practice reading and writing. They do not develop these basic skills of civilization because they are not made to develop them. Except for bookish students and grinds, they have no strong natural inclination to work at these things on their own time.

ONE CONSEQUENCE is that colleges must give courses in "remedial English," which is academic jargon for teaching illiterates how to read and write. Even these courses are not doing the job, because Johnny and Susy are out of puppyhood by college and you can't teach old dogs new tricks.

The rest of the thought I wanted to share with my high school listeners is that reading and writing are separate arts, also speaking. Yet because all three deal with the use of words there is a misconception that all three are the same thing—that good speakers will be good writers and good writers will be good speakers.

It's not that way. Good readers may be terrible speakers and writers. Writers rarely are good speakers.

I recall seeing a manuscript written by a public figure noted for his ability to charm birds to come out of trees with the spoken word. I had heard this Demosthenes perform; he was a gasser.

But what he had written, though it might sound wonderful, read terrible. Anyone who has suffered through a speech by a writer who lacked the gift of spoken gab knows there's no cross-over in that respect, either.

WHAT CAN BE done about it by those who might want to do something? It's as simple as practicing basketball. To read and write, do it over and over until all the necessary reflexes have been conditioned—until read and written words are no longer unfamiliar.

Otherwise, writing especially, will be as awkward and stilted as a spinster playing kissing games at a party—or a non-reader stumbling through a passage of prose as if he never had seen it before. As a one-time mayor of New York City put it, reading a Fourth of July speech: "And so I say to you, in the spirit of One-Seven-Seven-Six, carry on . . ."

Lie Detector Tests Offend Private Rights

By DOM BONAFEDE

A congressional study on the widespread use of lie detector tests by government agencies will shock and perhaps anger Americans who take their right of privacy for granted.

The report, compiled by a House information subcommittee and soon to be released, is the result of a four-month investigation, quietly conducted to determine the frequency and effect of the practice.

Rep. Cornelius Gallagher, D-N.J., the originator of the inquiry, said the findings far exceeded preliminary estimates, pointing up the need for legislative safeguards to protect the individual and uniform standards to regulate the use of the device.

"It's time we start reevaluating the American right of privacy. We hear a lot about civil rights but what about private rights?" he commented.

"THE GOVERNMENT today is the biggest violator of this right. It is solidly in the polygraph business and rapidly getting into frightening areas when it can pry into a man's thoughts, as well as his home and office. We're building up an apparatus of fear and intimidation which is growing and growing."

Polygraph testing by the government has become so prevalent, he said, that portable machines are being used in South Viet Nam to gauge the loyalty of native troops. Earlier, 3,494 Cuban exiles applying for admission into the U. S. Army were screened with polygraphs. Rep. Gallagher said the subcommittee learned as a result of questionnaires sent 58 federal agencies:

1. More than 23,000 polygraph tests were conducted by the U.S. at a cost of more than $5 million during fiscal 1963, ending last June 30. These figures do not include the "hundreds of tests" which the Central Intelligence Agency gave to applicants and employees. The CIA is privileged by law from disclosing the information.

2. The top-secret National Security Agency acknowledged that polygraph interviews are given to all job applicants. It was learned the agency extracts a promise from all who take the test that they will not reveal they had submitted to the interview or the nature of the questioning.

3. Nineteen agencies and five departmental units permit the test in conformance with policy although only seven have drafted regulations to govern their use.

4. The U. S. owns 525 polygraphs costing $443,000. This does not include the CIA operation. Agencies which do not have the equipment borrow it from those that do.

5. A reported 656 federal employees are authorized to conduct tests, their salaries totaling more than $4.4 million. The training and background of the operators range from high school graduates to those holding doctorate degrees and from those trained by the Army in a seven-week course at a special school at Fort Gordon, Ga., to those professionally-trained.

THIS DISPARITY exists despite the consensus "the operator is crucial" to the efficacy of the test. And J. Edgar Hoover has noted, "the name lie detector is a complete misnomer. The machine used is not a lie detector . . . the person who operates the machine is the lie detector by reason of his interpretations. The machine technically is known as the polygraph."

A wide variance exists in the reliability of the polygraphs, which are scaled in price from the $650 portable machine weighing 17 pounds to Model 6303. The latter records galvanic skin response changes in addition to the normal measurement of blood pressure plus pulse and breathing rates. It is advertised at $1,175.

The subcommittee's report emphasizes that a test can be distorted or rendered inaccurate by several factors, including extreme nervousness by the person being tested, and physiological abnormalities such as high or low blood pressure, heart diseases and respiratory disorders.

MENTAL DISORDERS, pronounced neuroses or abnormally low intelligence can make a test invalid. So can pathological liars, who rationalize a falsehood to the extent it becomes a matter of truth to them. Persons who are suffering from extreme fatigue or who are under the influence of drugs or alcohol are unreliable subjects.

Sex also may affect a test and as reported by one expert, "women usually put up a much better fight against the lie detector than men. They lie more skillfully and stick to a lie with greater resolution."

The degree of accuracy in polygraph testing is subject to widely varying claims, from the almost 100 per cent claimed by commercial testers employed by private industry to 75 per cent reported by university researchers.

The most common user of polygraphs in the government is the U. S. Army, which last year conducted 12,500 tests, followed by the NSA with 4,000 and the Federal Bureau of Investigation, 2,314.

The FBI, incidentally, is considered the most prudent user of polygraphs, employing them only in criminal work and not in its pre-employment processing system.

Each of the agencies assured the subcommittee they do not give a test without the person's voluntary consent.

GOP Seen Hurt By 'Me-Tooism' Policy

By RAYMOND MOLEY

In the preliminary skirmishing over the Civil Rights Bill, a majority of the Republicans in the Senate, despite the position taken by Minority Leader Dirksen, voted with the administration.

This followed the example of many Republicans in the House who made little or no effort to amend the bill.

Indeed, the Republican leadership in the House seemed willing to pass the responsibility on to the Senate, to the President and to the Supreme Court despite certain glaring injustices in the bill, as well as its doubtful constitutionality.

THIS REPUBLICAN posture in Congress deserves critical examination. Perhaps it is due to the fact that there is no Republican president in the White House to rally behind.

Perhaps it is due to confusion among so many Republicans as to what position their party should take in the forthcoming presidential campaign.

Mostly it seems to be due to the belief of members that they can best insure their political interests by following what they conceive to be the wishes of their local and state constituents. This is hardly an example of real statesmanship and party responsibility.

This is a very bad bill. Some of its provisions would stretch the terms of the Constitution far beyond any of the interpretations of the past. It is in violation of property rights and which may in the end visit itself upon both Negro and white citizens.

It would establish police authority at the federal level which might well be dangerous. It would lead into a morass of litigation which could extend for years in the future.

FINALLY, it is a bill which has been proposed by the administration and written by its authors under the threat of unspecified "action" by Negro leaders.

In that connection, it should be noted that Sen. Humphrey, the bill's major sponsor, arranged a press conference in his office for the Rev. Martin Luther King. At that meeting King said that if this bill does not pass, it would be harder "to keep the struggle non-violent and disciplined." He also specified that "about a month would be adequate to debate the bill."

Thus the threat of violence is coupled with what amounts to an order to the Senate to limit itself to a specified time to consider vital legislation for which Congress must be responsible, not to any minority but to the nation it is supposed to serve.

If, as is quite obvious, the acquiescence of Republicans in this matter is dictated by political considerations, those Republicans might note a number of political facts.

THEY MAY BE and probably are wrong in their estimate of the attitude of their constituents. Even in the Northern states and California, where large numbers of Negro voters sentiment of the extremism represented in this bill.

Even in New York City, where it is supposed that integration sentiment is greatest, the representatives of the professional supervisory people in the schools have announced their opposition to the extreme measures which seem to have been accepted by the city government and the Board of Education.

These professional supervisors, it should be noted, are the people who must grapple with the practical implications of extreme measures of integration. Among these are the carrying of children in buses over the city to integrate schools, despite geographical logic.

There also is growing concern in many Northern cities about the perils of personal attacks upon teachers.

Moreover, Republican members of Congress who blindly follow the command of the administration might well consider the state of their party nationally.

TENDENCIES to turn the party toward liberal policies, especially during the Eisenhower administration, have gained nothing and lost much.

Those Republican member of Congress might well look at the size of their own membership to see the proof of this. In 1951, with Truman in the White House, there were 47 Republican senators and 199 Republicans in the House. But in 1959, after seven years during which President Eisenhower attempted to liberalize the party, there were only 34 Republican senators and 153 Republicans in the House.

There was a minute Republican gain in 1960, but after the 1962 election the decline began again. This was no doubt due to the failure of Republicans to offer a sharp alternative to the liberal Democratic policies. Thus, me-tooism lost rather than gained public support.

But this fact apparently seems lost upon many Republicans in Congress.

Countdown In Cairo

By Seymour Freiden

LONDON

A calculated countdown has begun in Cairo. Blastoff time is estimated to be two years hence, during the Easter holiday when President Nasser figures he can crush Israel with a shower of missiles and win a war in which no other power will have time to intervene.

These macabre assessments have just begun to take shape and a sizeable group of men of state in the West are thinking seriously in terms of how and when to stop these preparations.

They realize that Israel can take care of itself under most conditions. But a sudden, without warning, missile war launched on Israel might be quite a different problem for survival.

AS ONE of the most voluble self-appointed protectors for nonaligned states, President Nasser has deliberately eschewed talking peace to warning of war, with Israel of course. He has said and repeated recently that a second war with Israel is inevitable.

To this end, his have-not nation staggers under the burden of nearly $800 million for military expenditures. Most of this is concentrated on the rocket-and-missile program run by former Nazis. Some have been recruited in the last few years through cover firms in Switzerland, but most fled to Africa earlier.

There are about 50 scientists of first-class capabilities — according to knowledgeable sources — at work on the Nasser missile-rocket armory. At their disposal they have 350 specialists and technicians, all highly-trained craftsmen.

All of them, by European standards, are highly paid. Their salaries are almost never touched, just banked in a safe place in Europe. They live in villas rent free. Groceries and goodies are available to them cheap. For medical care, they get the best — a top Nazi doctor wanted for war crimes in Germany.

He is Dr. Hans Eisele, who made guinea pigs of humans at Buchenwald. When the government in Bonn sought to extradite him, President Nasser personally rejected the request. Eisele is right at home, with former comrades living near him at Zamalek, a rather luxurious section of Cairo.

NAZIS WHO came straight from the ruins of Hitler's Reich to Cairo were put on the payroll of ex-King Farouk, under state protection. President Nasser booted out the king, but never once changed the table of organization of Nazis in the Egyptian government.

There are several who worked in policy-making posts for Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels' propaganda ministry. It comes quite naturally to them to fill the voice of the Arabs' radio with anti-Jewish propaganda.

Educated guesswork indicates that Nasser will have about 1,000 missiles and rockets at hand by this time in 1966. They are known by code or by operative names.

President Nasser's threats aren't propaganda, experts are convinced. He talks in terms of a future H-Hour, when his rocketry will be as adequately supplied and manned as it can ever be. His Nazi scientists, given a target date, have assured him that all will be ready.

Serves 50 Years

Elder To Be Honored

William T. Parsons, who has served for 50 years as an elder of the Westminster United Presbyterian Church in Chester, will be honored at a service of recognition Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship. He is shown with the Rev. William Claghorn, pastor.

He will be presented a certificate of recognition for his faithful and devoted service by Rev. Claghorn on behalf of the officers and members of the congregation.

He was born Nov. 30, 1885, at Sound End, England, and formerly worked at the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. for 43 years. He joined the former First Presbyterian Church in Chester in 1913 and was ordained April 5, 1914, by the late Dr. Joseph Dunbar, pastor. He is the only remaining elder and trustee who served at that time.

He has been Sunday School superintendent and teacher and devotional leader in the Men's Fellowship group.

He is a member of the East Liverpool Christian Business Men's Committee and the Board of Directors of the Community Rescue Mission, serving as chairman of the latter in 1963.

He is married to the former Ada B. McCoy and they have three sons, Earl George Parsons of Chester, Robert Lewis Parsons of Phoenix, Ariz., and Charles Alan Parsons of Lorain.

The Chancel Choir will present two of Parsons' favorite hymns, "Have Thine Own Way" and "Beyond the Sunset."

Rev. Claghorn's special sermon topic for the occasion will be "What Makes the Church Beautiful?"

Pastor's Installation Will Be Held Sunday

The Rev. George L. Clinkscales, pastor of the Bethel Church of God in Christ, 1187 Pennsylvania Ave., will be installed Sunday at 3:30 p.m. in a ceremony at the Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist Church.

Officiating will be Bishop R. F. Fields of Youngstown, accompanied by the Ohio State Massed Chorus.

Refreshments will be served.

Marks 2nd Anniversary

Chaplaincy Project Seen Christian Unity Example

By ROSE NUZZO

The chaplaincy program for City Hospital and Osteopathic Hospital, this month marking its second anniversary, has proven an outstanding example of Christian unity in the Tri-State area. The Rev. Joseph Varner is chaplain.

The service, sponsored by district ministerial associations, stemmed from an idea conceived by a number of pastors which resulted in a meeting held Dec. 28, 1961.

some cases he finds it necessary to serve the patients himself.

The program is supported financially by the churches of the area, with some charges contributing through their local church budgets, others through special offerings for that purpose. The program also receives some financial assistance from offerings received by ministerial associations at union services.

PRESENT AT the initial meeting were the Rev. Charles Kampmeyer, pastor of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church; the Rev. Albert Rodenhause, First Baptist; John N. Mostoller, former minister of the First Church of Christ; the Rev. William Claghorn, pastor of the Westminster United Presbyterian Church of Chester, and the Rev. Arden Beck of the First Methodist Church of Wellsville. Representatives of Midland and Newell were invited.

AT THE MEETING, a proposed chaplaincy program was formulated in co-operation with Miss Nell Robinson, superintendent at City Hospital; J. D. Thompson, currently president of the Hospital Board, and Dr. John Hayes of the Osteopathic Hospital.

After presenting the program to various ministerial associations of the Tri-State area, the movement was approved and accepted with a few suggested alterations. It was agreed that the program be directed by a hospital chaplaincy committee consisting of representatives from the various associations of the area.

THE COMMITTEE for the first year was comprised of Rev. Rodenhause, chairman; Rev. Beck, Wellsville representative; the Rev. C. Donald Vogel, pastor of the Chester First United Presbyterian Church, representative and treasurer; Rev. Kampmeyer, East Liverpool representative and secretary, and Mostoller.

It became the duty of the chaplaincy committee to employ a chaplain, on trial basis, for a period of six months, beginning in April 1962, for the purpose of determining if the program would work. The committee was convinced at the end of the trial period, that it was a success, and today it continues to grow and is accepted with deep appreciation by both clergy and laity of the area.

The event is sponsored by the East Liverpool Christian Business Men's Committee.

Quartet To Sing At Gathering Of City Bible Clubs

Special music at the annual citywide Bible Clubs "Good News Gathering" for boys and girls, Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at the First Methodist Church, will be presented by a quartet from the First United Presbyterian Church.

The group includes Alex Davison, James Chadwick, Dana Stoddard and Roy Stoddard. Miss Della Lammay of Charleroi will be guest speaker.

The opening exercises, including salute songs and pledges to the flag, will be conducted by members of the clubs.

The boys and girls will present four songs, "He Walks Before Me," "In the Twinkling of an Eye," "Love" and "Thou Art Oh Wonderful God."

Mrs. Eileen Davis will lead prayer.

Firm Ranks 3rd In U.S.

Orchids For 48 States

By BYRON EELLS

Delicate lavender and white cattleyas and multi-colored cymbidiums, transform the otherwise drab interior of a greenhouse into a tropical springtime, have brought national and worldwide recognition to Riverview Orchids, Inc.

In its 25-year history, orchid growing has developed from a family hobby into a thriving industry in which some 100,000 plants are grown under three acres of glass.

"Tens of thousands" of cut orchids brighten Easter and Mother's Day observances across the nation as the firm, headed by Charles J. Bosco, one of the sons of the founder of the floral complex, provides blooms in 48 of the 50 states.

Flowers and the Bosco name are almost synonymous and the orchid business is no different. Mrs. Jane Bosco, is vice president of the firm. Charles Bosco, a junior at Duquesne University, already is active in the management and another son, Stephen, a freshman at East Junior High, is ready to follow in the family footsteps.

Shipment after shipment of blooms are sent to florists in every state but Hawaii and Alaska, and Bosco proudly points out the firm now is the third largest in the orchid business in the nation.

Riverview orchid plants have also been delivered to many foreign countries, from Berlin to Hong Kong, with one shipment recently to a U. S. Army general in embattled Viet Nam.

THE BUSINESS primarily is seasonal, concentrated around Easter and Mother's Day, but June brides also keep the firm busy.

To an observer, organized confusion seems to develop in the last few days before Easter as some 30 part-time employees are added to the firm's regular staff of 23 to cut, grade, pack and ship to the market on time.

The firm also uses almost every form of transportation to get the blooms into the hands of florists, relying on air shipments to most distant points, rental trucks, busses, express and parcel post.

Following the Easter rush, the business slackens off, although the regular staff is busy preparing for the Mother's Day sales.

If your "best girl" wore an orchid corsage to complement her Easter finery, the bloom got its start in 1947 or earlier for its requires seven years of careful nurturing before the tiny seeds develop into a plant which will produce five or six blooms yearly. The plant will continue to bloom from anywhere to 3 to 10 years or longer.

To keep replacements on hand and provide for the expanding business, some 10,000 seeds are planted yearly, Bosco said. The history of each orchid is charted individually to show its progress.

TEMPERATURES are carefully controlled to regulate the growth of the plant and to have the blooms reach their peak at the proper time.

As the rush gets under way to fill customers' orders, the regular staff handles the job of cutting and grading the flowers with the part-time workers assembling corsages or packing the cut blooms for shipment.

Although listed as part-time employees, some of the workers, mostly women, have worked for the holiday rush periods for 10 years or more.

Extreme care is required because the orchids bruise easily. A corsage of cymbidium orchids, which the firm has been growing in increasing quantities in the last few years, will keep up to a month while a cattleya lasts for about a week, Bosco said.

After the blooms are cut and graded according to quality, they are placed in small rubber-stoppered glass vials containing water, and then are packed into cartons with shredded wax paper to protect the delicate flowers.

Wax paper is used because it doesn't cut the bloom as ordinary shredded paper would, the company president pointed out.

Working on a floral assembly line, the cartons are sealed and stacked in a nearby refrigerated storage room to await tagging and shipment.

WATCHING THE assembly line in progress last week, a stranger never would have realized that a disastrous fire destroyed the packing building and wiped out the supplies last August.

Some orchid plants in the greenhouse nearest the flames were damaged by heat, but the major loss was in the buildings and supplies, Bosco said.

The orchid business started as a family hobby in 1939 with six plants.

In 1946 Bosco took over management of the orchids, and the firm concentrated on expansion of orchid production, erecting about a dozen greenhouses. Today there are 20 greenhouses alone devoted to orchids.

The sea of color in the orchid greenhouses of Charles Bosco and the blooms in the greenhouses of Riverview Florists, Inc. - headed by Sullivan Bosco - are a tribute to their father, Frank Bosco, who founded the big complex in a small, handbuilt greenhouse in Salineville in 1908.

As his business grew and production spread into four more greenhouses on Schoolhouse Hill, the elder Bosco purchased three acres of ground at Anderson Blvd. and Park Way in 1924 to launch the business here.

There now are some 46 acres involved in the greenhouses and nursery.

ORCHIDS FOR YOU. With a handful of cattleya orchids in one hand, Darlene Shamp prepares to cut another bloom for shipment from Riverview Orchids, Inc., third largest producer of cut orchids in the nation. In the background is Sandy Millhorn, another employee with a handful of blooms.

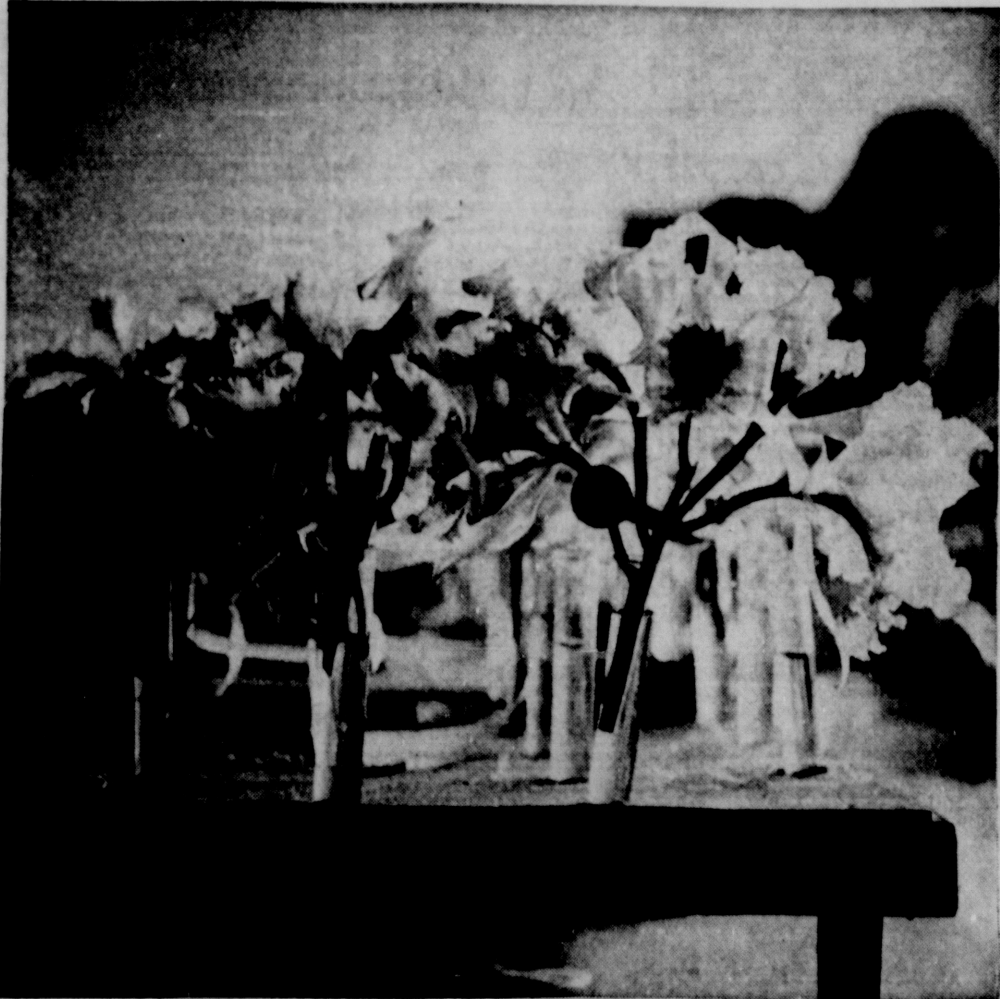

Seven years from now these young plants will be producing orchids for your "best girl" to wear with her Easter finery. Colored tags and a numbering system help the firm keep track of the progress of the individual plants.

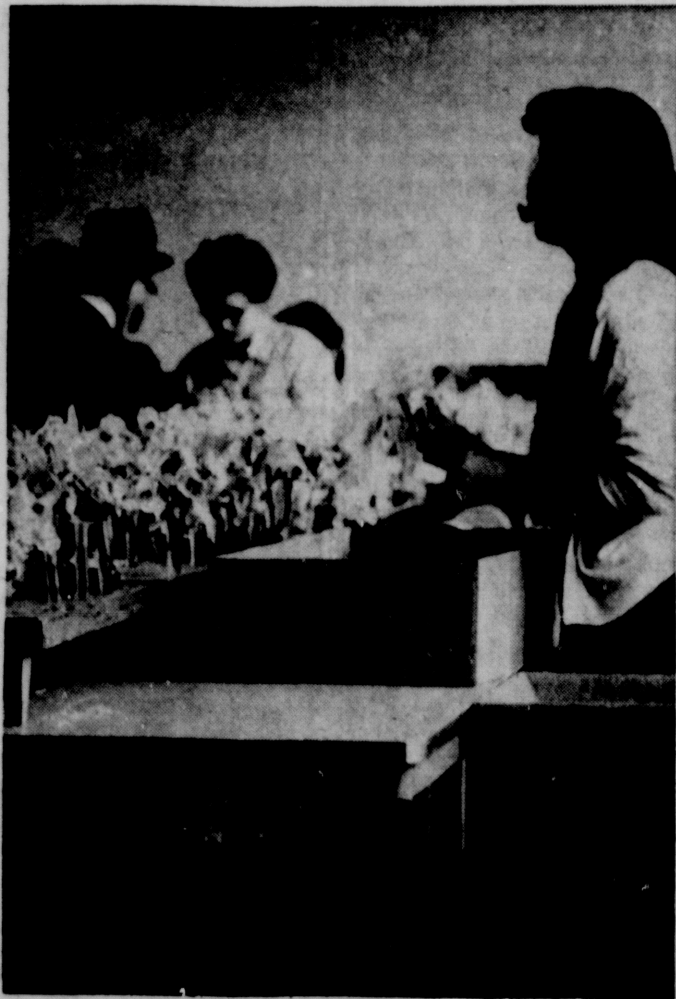

The job of careful nurturing of the orchid plants includes providing plenty of water, a task which Harold Benty takes on daily.

Visitors see row upon row of orchids with the delicate lavender and white blooms contrasting with the dark green leaves of the plants. These blooms are among the "tens of thousands" cut and shipped throughout the country each year.

In racks resembling those in a laboratory, the orchid blooms are kept in glass vials with water before being transferred into similar rubber-stoppered vials for shipment.

"Organized confusion" is the best term for the rush that starts about a week before Easter as the firm fills customers' orders.

With the orchid blooms carefully packed in shredded wax paper, the cartons are sealed and made ready for shipment as workers prepare to finish loading a rental truck with an order for a distant customer.

Mental Health Problems Tackled By New County Clinic

115 Given Help Since November

"Our aim is to give professional treatment to these people suffering some sort of emotional illness."

In these words Dr. Jekabs Knezinskis, director, sums up the goal of the Columbiana County Mental Health Clinic, which has proven highly successful since its beginning in Lisbon Nov. 15, 1963.

Dr. Knezinskis and his secretary, Miss Rhoda Applegate of West Point, are presently the only staff members at the clinic, which has 45 persons under treatment. 70 patients have been released since the clinic was started.

Dr. Knezinskis says a clinical psychologist and psychiatric social worker are still being sought.

THE CLINIC is sponsored by the Columbiana County Health Association and receives funds from the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene.

Juvenile Court Judge Louis Tobin, who is chairman of the nine-member board of directors, explains that the county must supply funds for the actual "house-keeping" of the clinic. The state pays professional help and will supply two dollars for every one the county raises, if that much is needed.

Judge Tobin noted that the county raised $16,000 in its 1962 campaign and hopes to raise an additional $20,000 during this year's drive, slated to get underway late this month.

The clinic is located in a two-story, well-equipped house at 339 E. Lincoln Way. The clinic rents the building and sub-rents the upper story to Dr. Knezinskis for living quarters.

The main "selling point" of the clinic is that persons may call and make appointments for treatment with a minimum of "red tape" and with no publicity.

THERE ARE no fees for treatment, although patients do contribute between one and five dollars for each visit if they are able, and willing, to do so.

Dr. Knezinskis believes that most of the 115 people that have been treated or are currently under treatment would not have sought help had the county unit not been available.

The nearest place, other than the clinic, where treatment can be obtained is Woodside Receiving Hospital in Youngstown.

Patients receive both medical treatment and psychotherapy (talking problems over) and have appointments about once a week, depending on need.

Persons are treated on an "out-patient" basis. Some patients make appointments on their own accord while others are referred to the clinic by other doctors, clergymen and welfare agencies.

ASKED IF there is a reluctance on the part of the patient to seek help, Dr. Knezinskis remarked that the reluctance is not so much on the patients' part as the patients' relatives.

"Naturally the patient is nervous on his first visit," he said. "But not any more than a person is on his first visit to a medical doctor's office."

Great steps have been taken in the treatment of the mentally ill, according to the doctor. "We have better tools to work with today than ever before and the general public is beginning to realize that mental illness is similar to a physical illness. It can, in most cases, be cured with the right treatment."

The two-story building at 339 E. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, formerly the home of Perry Rigby, has the clinic area downstairs and an apartment upstairs for Dr. Knezinskis, a native of Latvia who has been in the United States since 1949.

Currently the clinic is accepting only adult patients; however, children will be treated when the staff is completely filled.

Dr. Knezinskis is well-qualified for his post as director. Born in Latvia in 1907, he graduated from the University of Latvia School of Medicine in 1934 and took five years of residency in surgery.

HE FLED HIS native land in the fall of 1944 to escape from the communists and after the end of World War II worked in the International Refugee Organization and U.S. Army hospitals in West Germany.

Coming to the United States in 1949, he completed three years of residency in psychiatry at Nebraska University, Psychiatric Institute in Omaha and has worked as a psychiatrist in Kentucky, Massachusetts and Nebraska hospitals.

He was a member of the staff at Woodside Receiving Hospital from April of 1963 until he accepted his present position.

Beside Judge Tobin, other members of the county board of directors are Dr. Harold Hoprich and Atty. Bryce Kendall of Salem; Mrs. J. Donald Thompson and Rev. Russell E. Mase of East Liverpool; Mrs. Paul Hum and Charles R. McKenzie of Lisbon; Huber Lawrence of Columbiana and Miss Alice Herriott of East Palestine.

Too Busy For Sights

It's Not Greek To Diane

By TOM BAKER

Miss Diane Vodrey, 24-year-old city woman serving in the United Service Organization, is back in Athens this week-end after a visit home, still hoping to see some of the historic sites from which she has been kept by a busy career.

Daughter of Safety - Service Director and Mrs. Robert Vodrey of Elysian Way, Diane is currently associate director of the USO facility at Athens.

Although she is in one of the main tourist attractions of Europe and surrounded by relics of the early seat of world culture, she has been too busy with her duties for much sight-seeing.

The USO at Athens always has plenty of customers, she reported before completing a 20-day visit home last week. The city has a Navy base, an Air Force contingent and two Army garrisons nearby, and when the Sixth Fleet is in port, things are really active.

DURING SUCH a peak period, her day runs from 8 in the morning to 11 or midnight. So the sight-seeing just has to wait.

Trouble is, it's been waiting since she arrived in Greece in July 1963. Diane declares she likes her work, but is beginning to think there's nothing in the nation but the USO center. What's an Acropolis?

Diane has always enjoyed the challenge of working with people, and for a long time has had an intense desire to learn more about foreign countries and customs.

At Muskingum College at New Concord, Ohio, one of her majors was sociology, studying the habits and customs of people. But reading about them and actually working with them were two different things.

In March 1963, through her work with the YMCA, she learned about the United Service Organization, and decided that this was for her. It would not only give her the opportunity to work with people, but the opportunity to travel.

She entered the USO and was sent to their "training camp" at Rantoul, Ill., where she was taught the many aspects of the running of a USO facility.

After the four months of training, she was ready for assignment. She had no choice in selecting where she was to be assigned for the duration of her two-year contract, but was quite satisfied when she was named to fill a post in Athens.

HER DUTIES consist mostly of general supervision of operations, scheduling entertainment, setting up dances and movies, providing writing paper and pen, and lots of "just plain talk."

Her work is primarily with military personnel, but she says that occasionally she has an opportunity to provide directions and maps to a wandering tourist.

She lives in an apartment close to her work, and says that living standards in the city are pretty good. However, in the rural areas, conditions are primitive. But then again, who gets far enough away to tell the difference?

She isn't giving up, though. There are still 11 months to go.

Wildflower Reserve Opens

One of the Tri-State District's more rustic areas, where spring can be seen providing its earliest signs of arrival, is the Western Pennsylvania Wildlife Conservancy's Wildflower Reserve near Raccoon Creek State Park.

The 300-acre reserve, which opened officially Wednesday, is located along Route 30 north of the state park.

The tract has more than 500 species of wild flowers, wild ginger, wild geranium, skunk cabbage, trout lily, wild phlox and many others.

In addition, the Raccoon Creek valley and wooded areas offer unusual opportunities for bird watching.

Two excellent facilities have been provided for use by visitors. The Hungerford Cabin, located on Jennings trail, is an ideal meeting place for groups up to twenty in number.

The main structure, located near the entrance, is the newly constructed resident director's headquarters. Included in the early American farmhouse-style structure is a spacious public room.

Tour guides will lead groups along the trails, explaining the various flowers, trees, wild life and other natural phenomena. Individuals may walk the trails at their leisure.

The reserve facilities are especially adapted to student groups for field trips supplementing classroom subjects in botany, biology and other natural sciences.

For further information, write or call the Western Pennsylvania Conservancy, 204 5th Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa. 15222.

Stamps In The News

The unisphere, symbol of the New York World's Fair, will be featured on the new U. S. commemorative stamp and a commemorative embossed envelope to be placed on first day sale April 22—the opening day of the fair.

The 5-cent stamp, horizontal green on white, shows the main mall of the fair with the Unisphere to the left. The 5-cent embossed envelope in maroon is a stylized representation of the Unisphere.

Collectors desiring first-day cancellations on the envelopes should send their requests to "Embossed Envelope, Postmaster, New York World's Fair, Flushing, Long Island, N. Y. 11389," enclosing six cents per item desired.

First-day cover requests should be addressed to "First Day Covers" and sent to the same address.

It is important to remember that cover requests must be postmarked not later than April 22.

A new stamp album which will be a welcome addition in serving not only those collectors who started with a smaller album but also new collectors who want one which will take them several years to fill is the "Senior Statesman" by H.E. Harris and Co.

Who's Who In World Of Students

Musician, cheerleader and student leader is Karen Petchel, 17-year-old Western Beaver High School senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Petchel of Hillcrest Dr., Ohioview.

A member of the choir for three years, she was chosen to participate in the Mid-Western Pennsylvania Choral Festival at Rochester earlier in the year.

She has been a cheerleader since she was a sophomore, being on the varsity squad for the last two years. An avid sports fan, she likes to play basketball, and has served as vice-president of the Girl's Athletic Association and secretary of the Lettermen's Club.

Karen served as home-room secretary - treasurer in her sophomore year, president of the Spanish Club, and is the Senior Class historian. A member of the Tri-Hi-Y as a Junior, she also participated in the All-School play.

She is a member of St. Christine's Catholic Church, and was chosen as the "Girl Of The Month" for April by the Ohioview Women's Club.

With an eye on a career as a teacher, Karen plans to enroll at Indiana State College in September to major in elementary education.

HOME BUYING TIME

Spring is here and with it good weather that makes people want to get out and enjoy life. Often it's also the season many persons decide that it's time to look for that new house they've been planning to buy.

The purchase of a home frequently is the largest single business transaction the buyer ever makes, so it is important that factors pertaining to the house, land, title, etc., be determined in advance of any formal legal commitment to purchase.

Some of the important factors are:

1. How much is it to cost?
2. Exactly what property, real and personal, is included?
3. Mortgage or land contract financing?
4. What are to be the terms of payment?
5. Is the seller to furnish a "marketable" title?
6. What kind of deed must the seller give?
7. Who furnishes a title guarantee and fee policy, and who will pay for its abstract or attorney's opinion?
8. Have the utilities and improvements been installed and paid for?
9. Are there unpaid real estate taxes or special assessments, and who pays for them?

10. Are the improvements actually located on the lot and do they conform under zoning regulations?

11. How much insurance is in force and how is it to be pro-rated?

12. When is the purchaser to have possession?

13. How and when must the offer be accepted?

Usually the first step in buying a home is the making of an offer to purchase. Upon acceptance of the offer a contract is created. Too few people realize the extreme importance of the offer to purchase. It is not just a way of stalling off other buyers. It should include all terms of the sale.

Making the offer is the most important step in the purchase. The buyer should discuss all matters with his own attorney. Many a buyer has signed away his rights in an offer to purchase before ever consulting his attorney. Then it is too late to rescind the bargain or correct a misunderstanding.

Similarly the seller should discuss with his attorney any offer received before acceptance. After acceptance of an offer by the seller, the terms of the contract are fixed and cannot be altered except with the other parties consent.

FOOD FAVORITES

Mrs. Hilda Graham of 2149 Michigan Ave., offers this salad or dessert recipe which will put an elegant touch to any meal.

Dream Salad

2 boxes lemon Jello
3 tbsp. sugar
pinch salt

Add other ingredients while making the jello. Cool and when it is slightly set, add: 2 cups diced apples
2 cups diced bananas

1 can crushed pineapple well drained
Let this mixture set.

Dressing

1 cup pineapple juice
1/4 cup sugar
1 tbsp. flour
1 egg

Cook until thick and then let cool.

Beat 1 pkg of Dream Whip and fold into dressing. Spread mixture over Jello and sprinkle with nuts.

Want a recipe for old-fashioned suet pudding? Here's one from Nena Crosser of Lisbon.

SUET PUDDING

1 cup chopped suet
2 cups flour
1-2 cup raisins

Mix well. Put into a bag and boil one hour.

Garnish a cooked beet salad with orange segments — the flavors are compatible. You can use sliced, diced or julienne beets, douse them with French dressing and arrange them on lettuce before you add the garnish.

Goulart Flees To Uruguay, Report Says

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Deposed leftist President Joao Goulart fled into exile in neighboring Uruguay today, police said, while his successor tackled the formidable job of untangling Brazil's chaotic economy.

Goulart crossed the border before dawn with his brother-in-law, Leonel Brizola, a pro-Communist member of Congress, said a Uruguayan police official, thus ending a two-day mystery about their whereabouts.

Goulart's pretty wife, Maria Teresa, and their two children arrived by small plane, outside Montevideo, Uruguay, Friday. She said she expected to be reunited with her husband soon and added: "We shall make our home here until the situation is clear in Brazil, and then we shall return."

The police official said Goulart and Brizola were at the ranch of a friend in a small town 19 miles from the Brazilian border.

With Goulart in flight, Brazil's new president, Paschoal Ranieri Mazzilli, 54, moved swiftly with U.S. blessing to return the country to normal in the wake of the anti-Communist upheaval.

He met with newsmen in Rio de Janeiro shortly after his arrival from Brasilia and introduced members of his provisional Cabinet. He described his government as a "bridge between the old situation and the situation to come."

Carefully measuring his words, the former conservative president of the Chamber of Deputies also said he would return Brazil to its "traditional foreign policy." Under Goulart, Brazil had warmed up to the Soviet bloc, and relations with the United States cooled.

In Washington, Secretary of State Dean Rusk said the United States will work with the new government on Brazil's urgent problems. Because Goulart refused to introduce austerity measures to check inflation and reduce Brazil's $2-billion foreign debt, the United States had withheld a considerable portion of the $135 million promised in aid for this year.

All the Cabinet members are considered men of moderation, rather than die-hard conservatives.

Mazzilli said the government would use all "effective means" to bring stability to the Brazilian economy.

Under the Constitution, Congress must elect a president and vice president within a month, filling out Goulart's unexpired term which ends January 1966. Mazzilli, however, said he did not know when Congress would act.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Saturday, April 4, the 95th day of 1964. There are 271 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1790, Congress authorized the creation of the Coast Guard with 80 men, operating as the Revenue Marine and later as the Revenue-Cutter Service.

On this date
In 1791, inventor and philanthropist Peter Cooper was born.
In 1818, the United States flag was officially established as being made of 13 stripes and a star for each state.

In 1941, German armies rushed through Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria in their drive to the frontiers of Yugoslavia and Greece.

In 1943, American bombers blasted enemy shipping in the port of Naples, Italy.

In 1949, 12 nations, including the United States, signed the North Atlantic Treaty.

Ten years ago — Arturo Toscanini, 87, announced he would retire after 68 years as an orchestra conductor.

Five years ago — The United States rejected a Soviet demand that American planes remain below an altitude of 10,000 feet on flights to Berlin.

One year ago — The Air Force chief of staff, Gen. Curtis LeMay, told senators he thought the fighter plane proposed by the Boeing Company better than the one for which General Dynamics was awarded a contract.

Ohioan, 43, Charged In Cruelty To Animals

CINCINNATI (AP) — Roland Bernhardt, 43, has been charged with cruelty to animals after six Hereford cattle were found dead on his Hamilton County farm, according to Constable Carl Kessen of Colerain Twp. A Humane Society spokesman said the animals did not have enough food. Bernhardt, arrested Friday, is out on $100 bond.

Car With Old Tag Faces Towaway, Radeschi Warns

If your auto is parked on the street with 1963 license plates, you must move it to private property or buy 1964 tags to avoid the possibility it will be towed away under police orders.

Chief Americo J. Radeschi warned today.

The chief said officers soon will begin the annual cleanup of autos with expired tags parked in "dead storage" on streets.

"In addition to being an eyesore to passersby and the neighborhood in which they are parked, the old cars impede regular cleaning of paved streets by the mechanical sweeper," the chief said.

He said the number of "dead-head" cars on streets has been reduced considerably in the last few years by a campaign that requires licensing or removal.

The earth's water content always remains the same—about 326 million cubic miles.

Elkton Pair Safe In Quake

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Moore of Elkton have received word their son and his wife, Spl. 4C and Mrs. Glen Moore of Fairbanks, Alaska, are safe and well following the earthquake. The quake was felt at Fairbanks without damage.

The 65th Transport Co. of which Spl. Moore is a member was sent immediately to Anchorage to assist in rescue and cleanup operations.

Spl. Moore is stationed at Ft. Wainwright, just outside Fairbanks.

Mrs. Harold Dixon, Mrs. Ralph Moore and Mrs. Hughie Evans, advisors for the Churchill Chippers and Elkton Merry Maids 4-H Clubs, attended a dinner and workshop at Levittsburg Wednesday night.

Larry Parks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Parks, fell at home Tuesday and broke his arm.

The Elkrun Home Demonstration Group will meet Wednesday with Mrs. Leland Baker of near Lisbon.

Mrs. Perlee Hornbeck will demonstrate cake decorating. Members are to bring a sack lunch for the session from 10 a.m. to 2:45 p.m.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Apple were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Apple of Columbiana and L. B. Andric, Mrs. Alma Ready, Mr. and Mrs. John Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Marchbanks, all of Lisbon. Bonnie Apple, home on vacation from Washington, also was present.

Grange Dates Set At Yellow Creek

Events for the ensuing two months were announced at a meeting of the Yellow Creek Grange Thursday night in the Grange Hall.

They include completion of restrooms in April, bowling for Grange members tentatively set April 17, spring cleaning of hall by Girl Scout Troop April 25, inspection with coverdish lunch May 7 and annual auction May 16.

The program featured a review of "Our Musical Heritage" narrated by Mrs. Betty Mick, lecturer, and interspersed with musical selections.

Linda Mick, clarinet; Archie Hearn, guitar; Beth DeLauder, piano, and Ralph Falconer, piano, participated.

The lecture hour included roll call, "What You Like Best About Spring," poem, Mrs. Martha Reight, quiz on flowers, Mrs. Vivian Mick; stunt stories, lecturer; spring menus, Mrs. Mary Williams; poem, lecturer, and grange creed, Mrs. Frances Jack. Wayne Hamilton, master, presided for business of the Grange and Linda Jack for the juvenile meeting. Lunch was served by Mrs. Ernestine Baumgarner and Mrs. Viola Dunn. Next meeting will be April 16.

Reservists To Drill; 6 Given Promotions

A multiple drill is slated Sunday at 6:30 a.m. at the Poplar Ln. Armory by Co. A, 7th Medium Tank Battalion, local Army Reserve. Recent promotions of six members were also announced.

Classes on "The Tank Company In the Attack" will be presented by Platoon Sgt. Charles Kelly and Spl. 5C Thomas Miller. Capt. James E. Fox is commander.

Terry R. Brandt and Paul W. Miller have been promoted to sergeant, and Eugene C. Petty, Bruce M. Rickard, Dale A. Tice and William B. Williamson, to specialists fifth class.

Denied New Trial

Glenn's Resting At Home After Leaving Hospital

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. was resting at his home in Seabrook, Tex., near Houston today after checking out of Wilford Hall Air Force Hospital.

Glenn, who withdrew as a candidate for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Ohio because of a head injury, left the hospital Friday.

Officially, Glenn is listed on convalescent leave from the Marine Corps. He left the hospital by automobile.

Doctors said the former astronaut would return to the hospital for periodic checkups during the next few months. Doctors said he is suffering labyrinthitis, an inflammation of the inner ear.

The space hero fell Feb. 26 in the bathroom of his Columbus, Ohio, apartment, five days before he was to retire from the service and actively campaign for the senatorial nomination. The injury brought on loss of balance, dizziness and nausea.

Glenn said he has gradually noted an improvement in his sense of balance. He walked slowly from the hospital to the waiting car Friday.

'Our Guard Up, But Hand Is Out'

Johnson Says U.S. Ready To Fix East-West Issues

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has told the Communist world on the 15th anniversary of NATO's founding, that the United States is ready to settle differences that separate East and West.

"Our guard is up, but our hand is out," the President declared Friday as he blended conciliation with firmness in a nationwide address that evidently was keyed as much for foreign as home consumption.

"We must be alert to any hope of stable settlement with those who have made vigilance essential," Johnson said. "In particular, we must be alive to the new spirit of diversity now abroad in Eastern Europe."

At another point, the President struck this note again, that Washington does not view all Communist nations alike and that it is alive to the opportunity of taking advantage of the differences.

"We did not make the Iron Curtain," he said. "We did not build the wall. Gaps in the curtain are welcome, and so are holes in the wall, whenever they are not hedged by traps."

Johnson spoke on the eve of the 15th anniversary of the signing of the North Atlantic Treaty which bound together 15 Western nations in an anti-Communist military alliance that stretches from Turkey to Norway.

Standing before a bank of flags in the White House East Room, the President said that since 1949 the Communist "danger has receded, but it has not disappeared." The same 15 years, he said, have witnessed "the longest upward surge of economic growth that our Atlantic world has ever known."

"We have done well," he said in summation, but added: "The temptation to relax must always be resisted."

The United States is committed to its European allies, Johnson said. "We, for our part, will never turn back to separated insecurity."

There were obvious references in the President's address to President Charles de Gaulle of France, who has been striking out on an independent course. But Johnson never mentioned the French leader by name.

Ironically, he quoted another Frenchman, former Premier Robert Schuman, an architect of European industrial unity, in saying that the salvation and welfare of nations "can no longer be based upon an egotistical and aggressive nationalism but must rest upon the progressive application of human solidarity."

An international audience sat before Johnson as he spoke on nationwide radio and television. Beside the military representatives and ambassadors from the NATO countries were members of Congress; former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, who signed the NATO treaty for the United States; and three former NATO military commanders, retired Gens. Alfred M. Gruenther, Lauris Norstad and Matthew B. Ridgway.

Dentist Hits City's Delay On Fluoridation Of Water

A proposal to fluoridate the city's water supply still lies dormant in City Council 14 months after it originally was presented by the East Liverpool-Wellsville-Chester Dental Society, the Lions Club was told Friday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

Dr. Myer Alpern, chairman of the fluoridation committee, said the final decision rests with Council. However, the plans to add one part fluoride to a million parts water has been approved by the East Liverpool and Ohio Boards of Health and the Board of Public Utilities, which governs the operation of the water department and has the funds available to cover the estimated cost of $1,500 to $2,000 for equipment.

Chester quietly added fluorides to its water about eight years ago, the dentist said, and Lisbon and Salem also treat their water supplies.

He reviewed the history, pointing out it started in 1939 when researchers noted that people drinking water which naturally contains sufficient fluorides have far less tooth decay than others.

There now are 51 million in 2,000 communities in the nation drinking water to which fluoride has been added and another seven million using water containing natural fluorides, he continued.

Adding fluoride to the water supply is the cheapest and most effective method since it will benefit all children regardless of economic status, educational background or health consciousness, Dr. Alpern declared.

It will not harm adults but the chief benefit will be to prevent decay in the teeth of young children, he emphasized.

Opponents of fluoridation claim it is socialized medicine but Dr. Alpern branded the argument "ridiculous," pointing out the opponents don't complain about the addition of chlorine to prevent typhoid fever.

They also argue that it is poisonous but the dentist, who also was program chairman, declared a person would have to drink 30 gallons of water at one sitting before it would have a deleterious effect.

A slate of candidates headed by Richard Martin of the Martin Funeral Home for president was submitted by a nominating committee of Howard E. Tice, Donald Baxter and Harold Howard.

The other nominees are Donald Duke, first vice president; Ed Custer, second vice president; Edgar Shingler, third vice president; Charles Haugh, treasurer; Fred Yonz, secretary.

Robert Mathews, tail twister; Jerry Rose, lion tamer, and Fred Kane, Don Wolfe and Charles Huddleston, directors.

The club traditionally elects a new third vice president each year with the other vice presidents advancing a post until they reach the presidency.

Nominations will be made from the floor at the meetings next Friday and on April 17 with the election scheduled April 24.

John T. Smith, president, reminded members of the Board of Directors meeting Monday night at 8 at the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex.

No Casualties, No Big Damage

Another Major Tremor Shakes Anchorage Area

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Another major tremor, the second in a week, lent a wary air to activities in the quake-stricken Anchorage area today.

The tremor, one of some half a hundred aftershocks since the major earthquake of March 27, set buildings away Friday and sent office workers and shoppers scurrying into the streets of downtown Anchorage.

Police reported no casualties and had no reports of major damage to buildings or homes in this area. Last week's tremor left 129 known dead or missing and presumed dead.

The University of Washington seismograph office said that the quake had registered 7.5 on the Richter earthquake intensity scale, substantially under the force of the massive tremor of Good Friday, which registered 8.7.

The new shock was felt in Fairbanks, Juneau, Yakutat, Kodiak, Seward, Valdez and Cordova. The last four communities, as well as Anchorage, suffered severe damage a week ago.

State Civil Defense officials clustered around their "hot line" an emergency circuit linking the cities of south-central Alaska, when the shock hit, apprehensive about the safety of neighboring communities.

But, one by one, the surrounding cities checked in to report that while the quake had been felt, it was slight in their areas and had apparently centered near Anchorage. There were no reports of unusual wave action.

The quake began with a gentle rocking motion at 12:41 p.m. and quickly picked up in intensity. A deep, rumbling could be heard distinctly, and people ran to the center of downtown streets in brilliant sunshine to watch the buildings around them.

Then, just as suddenly as it started, the quake eased off. Within 30 seconds it was over, and people picked up quickly.

Lewis Seeks Flood Data At Wellsville

Flood information concerning Wellsville is being sought by Fire Chief Robert Lewis.

Lewis said he is especially interested in flood pictures of the community so a directory can be made up.

Lewis has the official figures for each high water, but since the change in the dam system, the stages are different.

Lewis said he desires pictures that are no longer wanted or used by their owners as he cannot return them.

Meanwhile, Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare has been requested by the Army Corps of Engineers at Pittsburgh to establish an official river gauge at Wellsville. It will be located at Little Yellow Creek.

Previously the engineers depended on dams for official readings, but with the advent of the new super-dams, the gauges are too far apart to provide an accurate rate of rise and flow.

The gauge probably will be made of wood, indented with painted figures.

With the gauge and the flood pictures, it will be possible to tell residents when to expect water in their homes or basements, Lewis said.

Four Classy Quintets Poised For Tournament Windup

First Semi-Final Game Set Tonight At 7:30 In Tri-State

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Uncle Pete's of Wellsville, the surprise so far, takes on Francis P. White Insurance and Wagon Wheel of Pittsburgh collides with Riverview Florists in the semi-final battles of the 39th Tri-State Basketball Tournament tonight at Memorial Auditorium.

A flip of the coin at 7 p.m. will determine which bracket plays the first game. Action will get underway at 7:30 with the two winners emerging to play for the championship which should get underway about 10 p.m.

SEVERAL upsets marked the opening night as 10 teams started in the tournament Friday night with some 400 fans on hand.

Uncle Pete's gained the semi-finals the hard way as the Wellsville entry was the only semi-finalist required to win two games.

Coach Ralph Fusco's five eliminated George Bright's, 60-41, earlier in the evening and then came back to upset Auto Body Supply of East Liverpool, 58-44.

The Auto Body five was somewhat of a pre-tournament favorite after winning all the marbles in the Wellsville Jaycee Tournament last week.

UNCLE PETE'S showed some hot hands and held a 31-26 halftime lead then led all the way through the second half.

Ray (Pick) Rolley and big Steve Baldwin fired in 16 points each while Vince Giles, who just returned home from the Army, flashed his fine brand of ball and wound up with 13. Baldwin did most of the rebounding and turned in one of his finest all-around games in helping Pete's into the semi-final round.

Herb Lake and Ed Fleming, the ex-Niagra star, scored 13 each for the losers.

In the first game, Bud Ceneviva, the former Wellsville standout, scored 18 to lead the way over Bright's. Reda scored 12 for the Realtors.

WHITE Insurance, with some classy former Westminster stars, stamped itself as the team to beat in eliminating United Electronics, 49-45. Ron Galbreath, a one-time Little All-American, led White's with 16 points while John Hennon, brother of All-American Don Hennon, and Schreckengost scored 10 apiece.

Jack Thayer, the one-time scoring machine from New Cumberland, led United Electronics with 16 while Pitt's top scorer this season Cal Sheffield added 12.

White Insurance led at halftime, 32-18, and had to save off a late bid by the United five.

RIVERVIEW Florists came on strong in the second half to eliminate Irondale City Grill, 68-57, after a 31-31 halftime tie.

Halftime score — Uncle Pete's 31, Auto Body Supply 25.

A crisp and well-balanced attack was shown by Riverview which has entered the Youngstown U. varsity. Jim Timmerman led the way with 16 while Larry Seneta found the range with his deadly one-hander for 14 and All-American Fred Jones added 13.

Leading the City Grill of Irondale was Garth Evans, top scorer for Malone College, with 19. Dick Cunningham, 6-9 All-Ohio center from Canton South, Don Spies and Dave Smith added 12 each.

City Grill had eliminated World Book & Bible Store, 60-35, in the opening game last night with Cunningham scoring 21 and Spies 20. Top man for the losers was Willy Cook with 10.

THE OTHER semi-finalist is Wagon Wheel Bar of Pittsburgh featuring members of Duquesne's NIT team. Wagon Wheel "rolled" over Amo's Esso, 58-51, in an overtime battle.

Big John Cegalis, who had the best night of any in the scoring department, dropped in a foul after regulation time had run out to tie the game at 49-49. Cegalis went on to score five points to pace the Dukes in the overtime.

Big John wound up with 25 while Pat Schipani added 18. Playmaker Denny Cuff, a mainstay for the Dukes this past season, added seven.

Tickets for the final night are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

White Insurance led at halftime, 32-18, and had to save off a late bid by the United five.

RIVERVIEW Florists came on strong in the second half to eliminate Irondale City Grill, 68-57, after a 31-31 halftime tie.

Canadiens, Red Wings Lose Stars In Cup Play

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jean Beliveau of Montreal and Terry Sawchuk of Detroit, key figures in their clubs' Stanley Cup plans, are out of action and it could mean a lost weekend for the Canadiens and Red Wings.

Montreal and Toronto, even at two victories apiece in their best-of-seven Cup semifinal series, square off in a pivotal game tonight on the Canadiens' ice. Detroit and Chicago, also deadlocked after four games, break the knot Sunday at the Windy City.

The Canadiens will be without Beliveau, their captain and scoring leader, when they tackle the Leafs. The big center injured his left knee when Eddie Shack, Toronto's "blind billy-goat," boarded him during Thursday night's battle-royal, won by the Leafs 5-3.

Sawchuk, the Wings' classy goalie, is back in a hospital bed today, victim of a recurring shoulder injury which forced him out of Thursday's game against the Hawks in the second period.

Rookie Roger Crozier inherited Sawchuk's pads and a 2-1 lead but wound up losing 3-2 in overtime. Crozier, who had been dividing his time between the NHL and AHL playoffs—he's the regular goalie for Pittsburgh of the AHL—will be in the Red Wings' cage Sunday.

Montreal, which previously lost Gilles Tremblay when the hustling left wing fractured an ankle in the series opener, recalled Claude Larose from Omaha of the Central League Friday as a replacement for Beliveau.

Frank Mahovlich, Toronto's million-dollar reclamation project, and a wrecking crew headed by Shack have kept the Leafs even with the Canadiens thus far in a penalty-ridden series.

Mahovlich, converted from left wing to center near the end of a disappointing season, had a hand in every goal in the Leafs' two victories. The Leafs turned down a million-dollar offer by Chicago for The Big M two years ago. He's currently earning the price tag, with three goals and four assists in four games.

The Black Hawks, whose 12-game victory drought on Detroit ice ended after 8½ minutes of sudden-death overtime Thursday when Stan Mikita's shot caromed off Murray Balfour's body into the Wings' net, will be at full strength for Sunday's fifth game.

Snead Clings To 3-Stroke Lead In Greensboro Open

By KEN ALYTA
Associated Press Sports Writer

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Jimmy Steed, a wizened, 50-year-old veteran of the fairways, has been caddying for Sam Snead for some 25 years in this area.

Between them they've lived more than a century. Snead will be 52 next month.

A pretty handy man with a golf club himself, Steed was in high cotton after Snead clung to his three-stroke lead through the second round of the $35,000 Greensboro Open Friday.

Snead's par 71 after a faltering beginning gave him a 135 total and a three-shot bulge over Julius Boros and Bill Dunk going into today's third round of the 72-hole tournament.

"If we win this one I'm going to tell all those young fellas, 16, 26 and 36 years old, not to fool with us old folks, 'cause we'll get 'em," Steed said.

Slamming Sammy is after his eighth Greensboro victory, starting back with the inaugural in 1938.

But Snead was going to have to tend to business on the 7,000-yard Sedgefield Country Club course, a par 36-35-71 layout.

Jack Nicklaus jumped from an 11th-place tie into fourth at 139, only four shots back of the PGA senior champion. The Masters champion was one of nine men who shot 69 Friday to tie for the day's low honors.

Snead had what he called one of the most unusual rounds he ever played en route to his 71. He played the back nine first, due to the over-sized field of 150. He bogeyed the 10th and 12th holes, then fought back with four birdies to balance them and two later bogeys.

Back of the top four came Bob Shave, Larry Mowry, Al Geiberger and Al Johnson, tied at 140.

Arnold Palmer needed 75 shots to get around for a 145 total, 10 off the lead.

Frisco Ties Hawk Series

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Coach Alex Hannum showed his San Francisco Warriors a horror movie and watched in return "the finest defense I've ever seen in the National Basketball Association."

As a result, the Warriors and Hawks go back to St. Louis for the third game Sunday of their Western playoff finals, deadlocked at one game apiece.

While the Westerners are battling the Eastern struggle goes on at Cincinnati where the hometown Royals are 2-0 down to the defending champion Boston Celtics in their best four-of-seven series.

Hannum showed his players the movies of them blowing 20-point leads to lose the playoff opener to St. Louis, 116-111.

"They sat in sullen silence and watched," the coach related of the Thursday night showing. "Then we discussed the situation and decided there had to be more running, more movement."

The result was a decisive 120-85 victory over the Hawks at the Cow Palace on Friday night which squared the series.

11 Records Are Broken In Texas Relays Meet

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Eleven records including the longest shot put by a Texan—62 feet, 11½ inches by Texas A&M freshman Randy Matson—were in the books Friday as the Texas Relays squared away for the final session.

Grambling of Louisiana, competing in the college division, appeared likely to win the most relays and possible endanger a world's record.

The Tigers won the 880-yard relay in a record 1:23.3 and at the same time set themselves up as favorites in the 440-yard and mile relay Saturday.

The speedsters from Grambling qualified with 41.2 in the 440-yard relay and aimed at the world's record of 40.0 in the finals. The Tigers have already made it in 40.3 and 40.0 in practice.

Two distance medley relay records—the event that is run 440-880-1,320-mile—were set Friday with Missouri doing 9:45.2 in the university class as its mighty miler, Robin Lingle, ran a 4:92.4.

Lingle is due for more relay action today and will pass up the special mile run unless his team fares badly in the relays. If Missouri is in trouble, he will enter the mile to contest John Camien, the four-minute man from Emporia, Kan. State.

Camien did 4:08.7 without effort Friday in sparking his team to a distance medley record of 9:57.8 in the college division.

Billy Hardin of Louisiana State, son of a track great of the thirties, raced the 440-yard hurdles in a fine 50.8 to set one of the top records Friday.

Baylor's freshmen did the 440-yard relay in 41.6 for a record in the junior college-college freshman class where Matson hung up his shot put mark.

Ollan Cassell, won the open 440-yard dash in 46.6 for a record. Earl Young, the Olympian making a comeback, wound up third.

Oklahoma won the 880-yard relay in 1:25.0.

Rodriguez Wins Nod Over Smith In Fight On TV

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Luis Rodriguez mixed his lightning-like speed with years of ringmanship to score a unanimous decision over Jesse Smith of Philadelphia in a listless 10-round fight Friday night.

For Rodriguez it was his 56th ring victory in 59 appearances. The former Cuban fighting out of Miami outboxed the Philadelphia all the way.

Nobody was hurt seriously in the dancing duel, although Rodriguez suffered a slight cut over an eye. It was quickly patched up.

Smith, one-time sparring partner for Sonny Liston when the former heavyweight boxing champion was looking for a speedy opponent, now has won 36 fights in 45 appearances. He came out of this one unscathed after taking countless left jabs to the face and body.

There were no knockdowns and if the nationwide television audience saw Smith go down in the fifth it was because he slipped, went to his knees and was up before referee Jimmy Peeler could begin counting.

Red Sox Rookie Continues To Club Ball At Hot Pace

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

At the age of 19, most kids are stumbling around trying to find a job or are battling their way through freshman English.

Tony Conigliaro, at the same age, is powering his way through major league opposition into permanent employment as a freshman starter with the Boston Red Sox.

The rookie outfielder continued his torrid spring pace Friday, knocking in two runs, one the winning tally in the 12th, as Boston nipped the Los Angeles Angels 3-2.

The way the Red Sox have been going, Conigliaro looks as out of place as Cary Grant in the Bowery.

He leads Boston with 16 runs batted in, four home runs, nine doubles and 13 runs scored. He is tied for the lead in triples with two, and his 21 hits rank him behind Carl Yastrzemski, the American League batting champion, and Frank Malzone, who each have 23.

He's batting an unspectacular .296, but 15 of his hits have been for extra bases, giving him a .648 slugging percentage.

Conigliaro, a resident of Swampscott, Mass., is only in his second year of professional baseball.

Conigliaro started his career last year with Wellspring of the Class A New York-Penn League. Batting .363 with 24 homers and 74 RBI in 83 games, he was named the league's most valuable player and rookie of the year.

Gary Geiger's ulcer operation and Roman Mejias' weak bat suddenly have thrust Conigliaro into prominence as Boston's starting center fielder.

In other exhibition action, Carl Willey suffered a complex compound fractured jaw as he helped pitch the New York Mets to a 9-1 victory over Detroit. Don Drysdale pitched his first complete spring game in the Los Angeles Dodgers' 12-2 triumph against Cincinnati.

Baltimore bombed Whitey Ford and the New York Yankees 8-0, scoring five runs in the first inning. San Francisco beat Cleveland for the ninth straight time 5-3 behind Orlando Cepeda's two home runs and four RBI.

Washington edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3 although the Senators' Claude Osteen had his scoreless inning streak stopped at 17. Julio Gotay sparked Pittsburgh to a 12-5 victory over St. Louis with a first-inning three-run homer.

Wes Covington's two-run homer helped Philadelphia edge Kansas City 5-4, and Minnesota trampled Milwaukee 12-3, halting the Braves' 10-game winning streak against American League teams.

Johnson Reported Back In 'Bipartisan Groove'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is back in the bipartisan groove, and it's all smiles again between him and Republican congressional leaders.

Proving that he is a man of no half-way measures, Johnson invited both Republican and Democratic leaders for a briefing by the National Security Council, the first ever to members of Congress.

The primary subject was Johnson's announcement that the United States and Panama had agreed to resume diplomatic relations and to discuss the Panama Canal dispute.

The conference brought Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois back to the White House for the first time since Jan. 29, Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, the House Republican leader, would have been there, too, except that he was out of town and couldn't make it.

After the Jan. 29 meeting, which also dealt with Panama, Dirksen and Halleck let it be known they felt they were getting the silent treatment from the White House. They weren't being consulted, as they had been previously, about either domestic or foreign matters.

There was some speculation that the President was miffed about some of the harsh things Dirksen and Halleck had been saying about his handling of foreign policy matters.

When this state of affairs became public knowledge, Johnson reacted quickly. He met Dirksen at a banquet and hailed him as "my friend." He added that "you've always been my friend and always will be."

Then came the opportunity to have Dirksen and other Republicans summoned to the White House to sit in on the making of a bit of history.

Press Secretary George Reedy said the conference had been called "in accordance with the President's desire to keep leaders of Congress fully informed."

3 Old Hard-Line Stalinists Kicked Out Of Red Party

MOSCOW (AP) — Three old hard-line Stalinists have been drummed out of the Soviet Communist party.

The three, who for years ranked among the world's most powerful men were former Premier Georgi Malenkov and V. M. Molotov and former First Deputy Premier Lazar Kaganovich.

All were known as disciples of the Stalin line, particularly Molotov, who has sided with the Communist Chinese in their ideological struggle with the Soviet Union.

Malenkov, Molotov and Kaganovich lost their government posts in June 1957 when Premier Khrushchev bested them in a struggle for control of the Communist party and government apparatus.

Although the 22nd Congress of the Communist party in 1961 voted the ouster of the three leaders, their long-awaited final disgrace came to light only Friday in Pravda.

The party newspaper disclosed their expulsion—one of the severest penalties that can befall a Soviet politician—in publishing theoretician Mikhail Suslov's 10,000-word denunciation of the Chinese Communists.

Glenmoor Driver Given $10 Fine

Six motorists, including a Glenmoor resident, were fined Friday by County Judge James L. MacDonald at Lisbon and two others forfeited bonds in State Highway Patrol cases. Fined were:

Augustus A. Baumgarner, 43, of Glenmoor, $10 for failure to yield the right-of-way in making a left turn; Estelle V. Borland, 58, of Mechanicstown, $5 for failing to operate her car on the right half of road; Nelson N. Sutton, 36, of North Canton, $5 for passing without the assured clearance; John W. Lucas, 40, of Salineville R.D. $5 for ignoring a stop sign; Mack C. Courtwright, 25, of Salem R.D. $5 for only one headlight, and Carol L. Fogle, 22, of Alliance, $5 for speeding.

Parker L. Hughes, 59, of Pittsburgh, and Allen L. Dillon, 22, of Birch River, W. Va., forfeited $15 bonds each for speeding.

2 Pedestrians Killed When Struck By Cars

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—Two accidents Friday killed two Clevelanders. Both of the victims were crossing highways to pick up mail. Both died in a Mariemont hospital.

Mrs. Bessie Schultz, 81, of near Batavia was hit by a car as she crossed Ohio 132 south of Batavia. Richard Binkley, 69, of Williamsburg died after being struck as he crossed Ohio 32 east of Batavia.

The special convention was necessary due to resignations and retirements on the committee.

J. Glenn Bates is chairman of the county ASC.

The ugly, somewhat bald head of the wood boss has earned it nicknames such as ironhead, gourdhead and Spanish buzzard.

Next Step Set In Civil Suit

NEW CUMBERLAND—Judge James G. McClure has set April 17 for further arguments in the suit of Mrs. Harriett Tennant of Weirton against Atty. William J. Moore.

Arguments will be heard then on a defense move of Friday asking that the court quash a request that depositions be taken from the Weirton attorney's mother-in-law.

Counsel for Mrs. Tennant moved yesterday that depositions be taken April 11 from Mrs. B. C. Morris, but Atty. Moore asked that the motion be quashed and Judge McClure set April 17 for arguments.

Mrs. Tennant alleges in her civil suit that Atty. Moore fraudulently induced her to sign her name to a deed for sale of her property. She asks $25,000 punitive damages, recovery of alleged rentals collected on her property, and payment of $11,189.04 for the property. She claims she did not receive the property settlement when the deed was transferred to Mrs. Morris.

Atty. Moore said at Friday's hearing that he offered to pay Mrs. Tennant $2,000 for the property. He alleged that she had that was left after the sale after his fees, taxes paid on the property, improvements and an outstanding loan payment.

Weirton Steel Lights Fourth Blast Furnace

WEIRTON — With the relighting of No. 3 furnace, all four are now in operation at the Weirton Steel Co., G. W. Gould, vice president—operations, announced.

After being shut down since Sept. 27 for relining and repairs, the No. 3 furnace was lighted Thursday. The furnace had operated continuously for seven years and five months during which it produced 4,280,000 tons of pig iron.

No. 3 furnace, 100 feet high with a hearth diameter of 25½ feet, was first placed in operation on Dec. 17, 1941. It was last relined in 1956.

Salem Man Elected County ASC Member

LISBON — Earl Lora, of Salem, former office manager of the Columbiana County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Committee, was elected member of the committee Friday at a special convention at the Village Hall.

Clyde Farmer of Salem R.D. 3 was named first alternate and John Raley of Lisbon R.D. 5, second alternate.

The special convention was necessary due to resignations and retirements on the committee.

J. Glenn Bates is chairman of the county ASC.

The ugly, somewhat bald head of the wood boss has earned it nicknames such as ironhead, gourdhead and Spanish buzzard.

Social Security Tax Due April 15

Social Security agencies in East Liverpool and Ambridge reminded Tri-State residents today that the deadline for reporting self-employment income and the paying the Social Security tax is April 15. To receive Social Security credit for 1960 self-employment income, it also must be reported by April 15.

If your net earnings are $400 or more in a year, you must report your earnings and pay your Social Security tax when you file your individual (Form 1040) income tax return. Even if you are not required to pay income tax, you must pay any Social Security self-employment tax due. The present tax rate for self-employment income is 5.4 per cent of your reported net earnings.

"A complete and correct report of all self-employment income is extremely important because future Social Security benefits are based on the amount of net earnings reported. The filing of incomplete or incorrect reports can result in loss of benefits — not only for the self-employed individual, but also for his family," the district directors reminded.

3 Motor Club Aides To Be Trained At Fair

Three officials of the Columbiana County Motor Club will attend a special school for travel counselors from American Automobile Association clubs on the New York World's Fair.

H. Jud English, assistant manager, and Mrs. Evelyn English, both of the East Liverpool AAA office, and William Taylor of Salem will attend Sunday through Tuesday in New York City.

Highlight of the school will be a tour of the fair site and surrounding areas at Flushing Meadow Park. Another tour will take the counselors to other tourist attractions in New York City, and classroom sessions will inform them on hotel, motel and other arrangements to provide for fair visitors.

Mrs. English and Taylor are employed in the domestic touring department of the AAA clubs here and in Salem.

Dinner Will Honor Brick Plant Foreman

HAMMONDSVILLE — Vance G. Sivard, general yard foreman of the Ironclad works of the H. K. Porter Co. Inc., for 42 years, has begun his retirement.

The company will hold a dinner in his honor tonight at 6 at Meade's Restaurant in Wellsville. Sivard, 66, is a life-long resident of the community.

Fire Belles At Rogers Will Sponsor Dinner

ROGERS — A public dinner will be sponsored by the Fire Belles, firemen's auxiliary, April 11 at 5:30 p.m. at the Community Hall.

On the planning committee are Mrs. Dorothy Hill, Mrs. Dorothy Williams, Mrs. Alice Rice and Mrs. Bonnie Rhodes. Mrs. Janice Walters is president.

The well-known Cathedral of St. John the Divine, in New York City, was begun in 1892, and is still not completed. When it is completed, it will be the largest Gothic cathedral in the world — 601 feet long, 146 feet wide at the nave, and 320 feet wide at the transept.

LAWS

QUESTION: How are our laws made?

ANSWER: Laws in the United States are made and enforced by the government, which represents the people, since its members are elected by the people and act in their interests. In the U. S., citizens are encouraged to take a direct part in law making. Suggestions for new laws may come from the President or from senators or representatives, but all these officials listen carefully to what people are saying, pay great attention to letters and are guided by public opinion. The top left picture symbolizes a congressman getting an idea of what the people in his area would like to have in the way of new laws, and at the right he has had a bill introduced in the House of Representatives embodying these suggestions. New bills may originate either in the Senate or House. Follow the numbers to see what happens then. A new bill is read before the House and then given to a special committee, which may alter it, put it aside or report favorably on it. Urgent bills may be pushed ahead by the House Rules Committee. If a bill passes the House it is sent to the Senate, where it goes through a similar procedure. When signed by the President, it finally becomes law.

FOR YOU TO DO: Pretty soon, you'll be voting. Meanwhile, read your newspaper's reports and editorials and practice making up your mind.

Strange Mishap

Cars In Same Direction Hit Head-On (One Spins)

Two cars traveling in the same direction were involved in a "head-on" collision Friday night at 8 on Route 30 just north of the city limits.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the strange mishap involved cars driven by Miss Linda Adams, 20, of 1053 N. Surry Rd., Fisher Park, and Jerry Spencer Smith, 19, son of Cecil Smith, 526 River Ave., Chester.

Officers said Miss Adams' car went out of control on an icy patch. It spun around, coming to a halt headed in the opposite direction. Smith, who was following, was unable to stop and rammed the other car head-on.

East Liverpool police aided at the scene until the patrol arrived.

Smith suffered minor injuries of the head and right neck. A passenger in his car, Gretchen Smith, 17, daughter of Mrs. Verna Smith of Pyramus Ave., Chester, had contusions of the forehead.

Weirton is seeking to contact Charles L. Bergstrom, 19, whose last known address was in care of Clayton Ward, Waterford Park race track. Anyone with knowledge of the registrant is to call or write the Board of office in the Longo Building in Weirton. Mrs. Ila M. Snyder, clerk, said they may call 748-1800.

25 In Dredge Strike To Act On Proposals

Twenty-five sand dredge employees of the district were to meet this afternoon at the Chester American Legion home to consider two Dravo Corp. offers made Friday in Pittsburgh in negotiations over a strike that began Wednesday noon.

The dredge workers are members of the National Maritime Union, which authorized the strike.

Three men on picket duty along the West Virginia shore near Cowli's Farm south of Newell have withdrawn pending outcome of today's meeting on the Dravo offers.

The men are employed on two dredges working in Dravo Corp.'s Keystone Division off Wellsville and Toronto.

Dravo made two separate offers in yesterday's negotiations with the NMU in Pittsburgh.

One calls for the company to assume payment of pension and welfare benefits at $1.50 a day for each employee, hike wages 7 cents an hour, and extend the present contract an additional year to 1966.

The second offer is a flat 10 cents an hour wage increase, without the pension and welfare plan or extension of the present contract, which is good until 1965. Although the present contract does not expire for another year, it has a wage re-opening clause.

Average hourly wage of the dredge workers at present is $2.65 for union personnel.

Only 25 dredge employees from this area are in on the bargaining, as those laid off cannot participate due to unemployment regulations.

Wilbert Weekley of Washington School Rd., picket captain, said the employees may return to work today or Sunday if one of the two company offers is accepted this afternoon.

Rejection of the offers would mean continuation of the strike and picket lines, he said.

The district sand barge employees have struck four times in six years, but the present one is the first authorized by the NMU, Weekley said.

He explained the dredge employees presently pay the cost of pension and welfare benefits, averaging about $20 a month. The company offered yesterday to assume the cost at $1.50 a day for each man, he said.

Canton Meeting Set In Clay Plant Parley

Another meeting was set in Canton this afternoon on negotiations for a new contract between representatives of the United Brick and Clay Workers Union and about a dozen sewer pipe manufacturers from Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana.

An agreement would cover 96 employees at the Peerless Clay Corp. in Port Homer, two nearby sewer pipe plants, and the American Vitritified Products Co. plant in East End.

The present two-year contract of the 2,400 clay workers expires at midnight tonight.

Cuban Figure Dies

LANTANA, Fla. (AP) — Carlos Hevia, 64, who served as president of Cuba for only one day—Aug. 12, 1933—died Thursday night after suffering a heart attack. A political junta which overthrew Cuban President Machado named Hevia provisional president for one day before electing a successor.

450 Attend Play Of Seniors; Final Performance Tonight

A crowd of 450 attended the opening performance of "Father's Been To Mars," a three-act comedy by the Senior Class of East Liverpool High School, Friday night at Westgate auditorium.

Directed by Keith Langdon, speech-arts teacher, the play will be presented again tonight at 7:45 at Westgate.

The crowd was liberal with applause for the cast as the plot of the farce developed, centered around Greg Claypool, a TV spaceman turned husband but reluctant to leave his "outer limits" ideas at the studio.

As Larry Gipson, Claypool is hounded by a daughter, Gloria, portrayed by Peggy Rorher, to become a sophisticated businessman and father, help impress her boyfriend, Ned Morris, played by Keith Locke.

But a younger daughter, played by Marlene Laughlin, is content with her father's love for space drama and attempts to perpetuate his image as a TV space hero. Answering the phone in the Gipson home, she recites space world lingo and her funny lines draw laughter.

Ether Schlosser portrays the Gipson family's new maid and wonders at the unusual family.

Midway through the play, Mrs. Gipson, played by Karen Keddie, entertains her sewing circle, and the members are portrayed by Susan Powell, Darbie Thomas and Darlene Taylor.

While the girls are meeting, the husband arrives home accompanied by Zi Zi Cordova, Countess Vilma of the TV space world. The father is outfitted in a space suit with transparent helmet, and Zi Zi (Susan Silverman) wears a long flowing black robe and tights and is armed with a ray gun. The sewing circle is shocked by such conduct, and leaves insulted.

Then the husband is offered the job of vice president of a TV station and decides to accept it for benefit of his family. Roger Hicks, playing the station president, J. Roland Pierce, calls at the home to talk over the offer.

While the two are talking business, Mrs. Gipson and the sophisticated daughter decided to teach Claypool a lesson and come on stage dressed as spacewomen.

The men are embarrassed and the TV official has misgivings about hiring a vice president from such a weird home.

But the older daughter's boyfriend turns out to be a nephew of the TV official, and persuades him to hire Claypool, giving a happy ending.

Between acts, Vincent Maola directs a stage band in selections. Toby Moidel and Ann Spore are in charge of costumes, and prompters are Marjorie Lemire and Paula Wheelon.

Mike Vohar furnishes the voice for the space scout, and Randy Stover, voice of the announcer.

Barbara Eddy, Alice Anderson and Barbara Hall form the makeup staff, and Fran Gallo, Miss Whealdon, Kathy Jones, Trudy Mumaw and Becky Ludington are in charge of properties.

Stage hands are Stover, Gary Waggoner, Linda Lowers, Mike Vohar, Sarah Clunk and Chuck Taylor. The lighting and sound is handled by John Griffith, Bob Cook and Jane Coppock.
